New regents named; Box not reappointed

A Dumas lawyer, a Wellington woman and an incumbent from Amarillo were named Wednesday by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to six-year terms on the West Texas State University board of regents.

New board members are James R. Lovell, a Dumas attorney and county Democratic Party Chairman, and Mrs. Billy Mack Sims of Wellington.

Reappointed to a six-year term was Jack Shelton, an Amarillo cattleman.

The two new appointees replace Cloyce K. Box of Dallas, chairman of the board, and B. Raymond Evans of Tulia, vice chairman of the board.

A spokesman for the governor said both Box and Evans asked that the governor not reappoint them to the board.

Lovell, the only new regent who could be reached Wednesday, expressed enthusiasm at the possibility of working with the university.

Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, university president, was pleased with the appointments and wished well to Box and Evans, who have served on the board since appointed in 1969 by then — Gov. Preston Smith.

Briscoe, in announcing the appointments, expressed regret that Box and Evans had decided to step down from the board.

"They have performed long and faithful service and their individual efforts in the cause of good government and educational excellence will be missed," the governor said. "I wish them well."

Box, a controversial board figure during his six-year tenure, reached a level of statewide notoriety last year when unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate Sissy Farenthold alleged in a lawsuit that he had illegally donated $10,000 to Briscoe's campaign fund.

Evans is a Tulia business and cattleman.

Lovell, a past president of the Dumas Chamber of Commerce, is well-informed on the university. His daughter, Mrs. John Dreslin, now an employee of the First National Bank here, graduated recently from WTSU and Dreslin is now a student anticipating graduation in December. Lovell's wife recently received her masters degree in English from the university.

Lovell is an immediate past director of the Texas Bar Association Amarillo District. He received his BBA and LLB from Southern Methodist University.

Lovell said he is not yet familiar with the legal powers, duties and responsibilities of regents, but indicated he has several general areas he hopes to stress as a regent.

"I do believe in excellence in education," he said, noting he has served as a Dumas School District trustee. "I'd like to see WT continue to move forward like it is to become one of the best universities in this state and the nation. I think we're well on our way and I want to push it along a little faster."

Mrs. Sims could not be reached for comment on the appointment. She is a graduate of Abilene Christian College and is active in Amarillo area activities. She is third vice president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and is editor of the journal for the

At January meeting of board

Watkins reappointment talk expected

Discussion on the reappointment of Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins as president of West Texas State University is expected to be on the agenda for a January meeting of the university board of regents.

Discussion of the matter, with Watkins in the middle of the third year of his three-year contract as president, is anticipated by at least two regents contacted following the Monday regents' session on campus.

Reappointment of Watkins has been conspicuously absent from regent agendas in the past six months, but, according to one high university official, who wished to remain unidentified, the lack of action on the matter has not been cause of particular concern.

Watkins, who was hired in the spring of 1973, has a contract with the regents which expires in August 1976. He began work as president of the university Aug. 1, 1973.

"I personally think he's doing a wonderful job and that we'll take it (his reappointment) up probably at the next meeting," T.L. Roach of Amarillo said.

Dr. Irby Carruth of Canyon said January "would be an appropriate time" for discussion of Watkins' reappointment.

Regent Jack Shelton could not be reached for comment. He is one of three regents whose terms of office on the board expired Aug. 31, 1975, but who are serving until Gov. Dolph Briscoe makes new appointments to the board. Others whose terms have expired are Chairman Cloyce K. Box and B. Raymond Evans. Dick Todd of Crowell has said he will resign from the board, but has not indicated when his resignation will come. He was absent from the Monday regents meeting.

Based on past precedents set by the regents in handling high personnel matters, the high university official said, including the rehiring of Athletic Director Gene Mayfield for a five-year period last spring, and the hiring of Watkins himself, the regents could have been expected to consider his reappointment before now.

"There's no reason to my knowledge why this has not been done yet," Roach told The News. "I have every confidence in the job Dr. Watkins has been doing and look forward to him doing in the future."

In action during Monday's meeting, regents approved investigation of a power control system for energy conservation on the campus and approved the hiring of a fire and safety officer.

They also okayed an underground tunnel system, which will include new unmetered water lines to upgrade and make useful the university's fire hydrants.

Regents took no action on the election of officers, pending the governor's appointments of replacements for the three regents whose terms have expired. Likewise, they took no action on a change in the regents' by-laws, calling for a change in the election procedure for board officers.

Regents upheld the removal of Dr. Emilio Caballero as chairman of the university's art department, but Regent Don Curry of Fort Worth abstained from voting on the matter. All other regents voted to uphold a decision

Nevada nuclear test registers in Canyon

An underground nuclear warhead test which shook parts of three states Tuesday didn't exactly shake the ground in Canyon, but its impact was felt by a West Texas State University graduate geology student.

Chuck Hood, who last summer constructed his own seismograph and has it operating in the basement of the WTSU science building, said the big blast early Tuesday registered on his equipment.

Hood said he has no way of measuring the exact impact of the detonation, which occurred underground near Mercury, Nev.

"It was good sized," Hood said after reviewing his seismograph record. "I recorded a couple of nuclear tests over the summer and this one was even larger than those."

Even though Hood's seismograph recorded the blast, he said it is not likely local residents were actually able to feel the blast here.

The blast registered 6.5 on the Richter scale in Berkeley, Calif., and news reports indicated people were shaken from their sleep 150 miles from the center of the blast in Nevada.

The nuclear weapon was detonated 4150 feet underground and had an announced yield of 200 kilotons to one megaton.

Based on low absentee number

Hutton predicts light turn-out

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton predicted this week, based on the number of absentee voters, that fewer than 20 per cent of the 30,000 registered voters in Randall County will cast ballots Tuesday in a special constitutional amendment election.

Hutton, who keeps tabs on voting numbers and materials, said only 70 persons have voted absentee for the election, which if the propositions on the ballot carry could replace the current Texas Constitution.

Absentee balloting ends Friday at 5 p.m. in both the Amarillo and Canyon courthouse clerk offices.

"Absentee voting is an indication of how much interest is being created," Hutton said Tuesday. "I expect between 10 per cent and 20 per cent of the registered voters will vote."

Hutton also bases his prediction on the light voter turn-out on the historical popularity of off-year constitutional amendment elections.

The number of absentee voters recorded so far roughly corresponds with the number who have voted in previous off-year elections.

In 1971, for example, only 43 persons voted absentee and only 10 per cent of the registered voters went to the polls. In 1973, 70 persons voted absentee and 11 per cent of the registered voters cast ballots. The election of 1969 was somewhat of an exception with 187 absentee voters and 18 per cent of the registered voters going to the polls.

Last April, when two constitutional amendments were on the ballot, only 13.9 per cent of the registered voters went to the polls.

While off-year elections have proven to have little voter interest, Hutton said other elections draw many more voters. City elections in Amarillo, he said, have been known to draw as many as 50-60 per cent of the registered voters.

Registered voters for the Tuesday ballot total 30,053.

On the ballot for the Tuesday election will be eight propositions. Taken as a whole, they would replace in its entirety the current Texas Constitution, originally passed in 1878.

Sheriff keeps file open on cattle mutilations

Sheriff Cliff Longest, who has studied a report from a South Texas sheriff indicating widespread cattle mutilation in the state is due to cadaver-consuming birds, is not ready yet to close the books on six cattle mutilation cases in Randall County.

Longest said the evidence presented by the downstate sheriff in a report forwarded last week to Texas Ranger John Dendy of Canyon is compelling, but not altogether conclusive, that carrion crows and buzzards are responsible for the mutilations.

"He's (the downstate sheriff) closed all his cases out," Longest said Tuesday. "But, I'd like to do some more checking, rather than say that's it."

Six head of cattle have been reported mutilated, their tongues, eyeballs and sexual organs severed, since last spring in the county. Hundreds of similar cases have been reported throughout the state and in adjoining states.

Longest indicated he may try an experiment conducted by the downstate sheriff to determine the effect of buzzards and other scavengers on the carcasses of dead cattle.

The sheriff, Longest said, purchased several head of cattle, killed them and then lay them in open fields with deputies posted to keep constant look-out over the carcasses to watch for the scavengers.

The sheriff reported in the letter to Dendy that carrion crows and buzzards had the ability to sever eyeballs, sexual or-

Students too late in demand to Gov.

West Texas State student senators were too late Monday in a vote demanding that Gov. Dolph Briscoe appoint a student to the university's board of regents.

A governor's office spokesman said Tuesday, before announcement of the governor's appointments to the board Wednesday, that the student demand would have done little good, anyway. He said the demand would have little force unless the students had submitted a name to the governor for consideration.

Senators passed a three-pronged resolution by a vote of 22-2 Monday afternoon demanding three things:

*"that the vacancies on the Board of Regents of West Texas State University be filled immediately . . ."

*"that a representative of the West Texas State University student body be appointed to the Prizes and lower prices due city's 'First Monday'

"First Monday" is the idea behind a new promotion of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce which has gained citywide merchant participation in an effort to give consumers a chance to find bargains and evening shopping each month.

The "First Monday" promotions will have stores throughout the city staying open late on the first Monday of each month with merchandise advertised through window posters, on KCAN radio station and through the Canyon News.

Canyon's first such promotion was held here in October with special sales occurring in a majorityof city businesses.

November's "First Monday" is next week and a special jigsaw puzzle contest will be conducted by city merchants for the event.

Shoppers will be eligible to win prizes if they find the puzzle pieces which fit at the participating businesses and will also have more shopping time as merchants are open late for the promotion on Nov. 3.

Simpson, Heatly clash on proposals anyway

Constitution talk can't outdraw football

In one room of the rambling Amarillo High School building in north Randall County, Coach Larry Dippel explained to a crowd of fans how his Sandies fared last weekend.

Dippel estimates 40-50 Sandie fans showed up for the weekly chalk and film session he holds during football season.

By actual count, in the vast AHS auditorium, which can seat a capacity crowd of more than 500, 35 persons listened to two state legislators discuss and pros and cons of a constitutional amendment proposal on the ballot next Tuesday which could reshape Texas government.

The paltry attendance at the first of two discussion sessions scheduled by Randall County commissioners for airing the eight proposals on Tuesday's special election ballot was noted not only by the speakers Tuesday night, but also by the commissioners who decided to set up the sessions.

At one point in the evening, Commissioner Dee Griffin Sr. referred sarcastically to the interest which has been shown in the special constitutional amendment election by noting aloud he has received only two telephone calls from constituents concerning a resolution the commissioners have tabled, a resolution calling for voters to vote against the eight ballot proposals.

"We appreciate those of you who have come out tonight," County Judge Woody Pond, who moderated the meeting, told the audience. "I just wish the auditorium was full."

Even with the small number of spectators, State Rep. Bob Simpson of Amarillo and Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah took opposite ends of the spectrum to discuss their feelings about the proposals, which if passed would replace Texas' current constitution.

Simpson favors passage of the entire list of proposals, while Heatly opposes all eight proposals.

Simpson, in outlining his reasons for favoring the proposed new constitution, cited the much-cited statistics concerning the current basic document, which originally passed in 1876: the document has been amended 220 times in its history, it has 63,000 words and it was passed in a time of backlash against the corrupt Reconstruction government of the state.

Adoption of all eight proposals on the ballot, Simpson contended, would give Texas a document with only 18,000 words and with understandable language.

Major changes Simpson brought out in his discussion

Halloween contest winner for the Kappa Kappa Psi band fraternity received a $5 cash prize and two tickets for attending the Haunted House being sponsored by the band fraternity. Winner was Nolan Dees, son of Dr. and Mrs. Myron Dees, who receives his award here from Scottie Johnson of the band fraternity.

Halloween Poster Prizes Are Given

Kappa Kappa Psi band fraternity at West Texas State University announced the winners this week of a special Halloween poster contest sponsored in the local elementary schools for promotion of the fraternity's Haunted House.

Grand prize winner in the contest was Nolan Dees, son of Dr. and Mrs. Myron Dees of Canyon. The contest was judged by Charlotte Brantley, art instructor at Canyon High School.

Posters from the contest will be displayed throughout the week at Western Plaza mall in Amarillo and will then be returned to Gene Howe and Rex Reeves Elementary Schools for further display.

The grand prize winner, Dees, received two tickets to the fraternity's Haunted House and a $5 cash award. Other winners in the contest received two tickets each to attend the Haunted House which opened Wednesday evening at the building next door to Southwestern Public Service in downtown Canyon.

Fifth grade winners were: Dwayne Duncan, first; Todd Wallace, second; and Mary Bost, third; with honorable mentions to Colleen Yows, Tina Humble and Ricky Denison.

Fourth grade winners were Kelly Handley, first; Darla Campbell, second; and Ronald Taylor, third; with honorable mentions to Lori Thomas, Connie Schollenbarger, Pat Sparkman, Jay Hancock, Greg Coronado and Kevin Wait.

Special honorable mention recognitions were extended to second grade poster contest entrants: Royal Yarborough and Tefany Shew.

Fifth grade poster contest winners from left: Dwayne Duncan of Rex Reeves, 1st place; Mary Bost, 3rd place, of Rex Reeves and Todd Wallace, 2nd place of Gene Howe.

Teenager Hit By Car

A Canyon teenager escaped serious injury after being struck by two cars Saturday as she crossed Western Avenue in Amarillo.

Christy Allen, 14, suffered a broken wrist, mild concussion, broken front tooth and bruises and was treated and released at Northwest Texas Hospital, her mother, Mrs. Gene Webb of Rt. 2, Canyon, reported.

Christy, a ninth grader at Canyon Junior High, and four other youngsters were crossing Western near a bowling alley, when Christy stepped into the path of a car, her mother said. The girl was knocked about 15 feet and was then struck by a second car.

Car Wash

A car wash will be conducted Saturday, Nov. 1, beginning at 1 p.m. at the parking lot of Calvary Baptist Church.

Cars will be washed for a nominal $1.50 by the church youth in an effort to raise funding for a winter retreat at Ceta Canyon during December.

PTA Sponsors 'Spaghetti'

Rex Reeves Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring a spaghetti supper on Nov. 6 from 5-8 p.m. at the school cafeteria.

Tickets went on sale Monday at $1.75 for students and adults or $1 for pre-school children. Students at the school are conducting the sale of tickets.

A variety of merchant donated door prizes will be presented during the evening. Proceeds from the supper will go toward further playground improvements at the school and for an improvement project at the school cafeteria.

Halloween Carnival Activities Tonight

The traditional Halloween Carnival will be conducted this evening, Oct. 30, at the Canyon Junior Livestock Building with activities beginning at 6 p.m.

Sponsored by Canyon Study Club, the carnival is open to the public and will feature booths such as nickel throwing, apple bobbing, a marriage license booth, a wheel of fortune, clothes pin and ring the bottle games, and Bingo along with a variety of refreshment areas.

Booths are being sponsored by a variety of Canyon clubs and university organizations with each sponsor promoting a contest for the Halloween Queen. The queen will be selected from among Canyon Junior High School nominees and will be voted on in a penny-a-vote contest to be operated by the Canyon Study Club.

Nominees for the Halloween Queen include Belinda Curlee for the Canyon Dames, Kathy Zello for the Les Amies Juniorette Club, Jeana Fulton for the University Study Club, Kelly West for the Randall County Home Demonstration Council, Tracy McAlpin for the Lions Club, Linda Plain for the Senior High Methodist Youth Fellowship, Donna Haynes for Girl Scout Troop 22, Melanie Brooks for Delta Zeta sorority, and Tawny Henderson for the Rotary Club.

'America The Nation' Program At Gene Howe

The Gene Howe 6th grade Band and Choir presented a Bicentennial program for the student body, teachers and a large crowd of parents Monday morning, Oct. 27th at 10:15 a.m.

The program opened with the band, under the direction of J.W. King. They played a number of songs including, "The Carnival Vender," "Yankee Doodle" and "Our Boys Will Shine Tonight," which was dedicated to the Canyon Eagles. They ended with "Goodnight Ladies."

The choir under the direction of Mrs. Margie Phillips marched into place to the tune of "Yankee Doodle," played by three girls and four boys on Flutephones, accompanied by Greg Coronado (a 4th grade student) at the drums.

The girls were attired in identical red dresses displaying one white star. The boys wore identical blue shirts with two white stars on the collar and white slacks.

Displayed throughout the program was a large 1776 flag and a current United States flag as the overall theme was "America the Nation."

The choir sang several selections including, "Over There," "The Green Beret," and "America The Beautiful," which was enriched with three boys and two girls playing the bells.

April Gibson accompanied the choir on piano as they sang "Freedom Isn't Free." The choir ended the program with "This Land Is Your Land," after which they received a standing ovation.

On Wednesday Oct. 29th the band and choir journeyed to Wildorado where they presented "America the Nation" for the Wildorado students, teachers and parents.

Tennis Win Earns Respect

In winning the University of Kansas team tournament with a perfect 3-0 record, West Texas State University's tennis team added more respect to the Missouri Valley Conference.

"I think this is a real boost for the Valley," Coach David Kent said. "Missouri is the defending Big Eight champion, they had everybody back from that team, and we beat them."

The Buffs opened the tournament with a 6-4 victory over the Tigers, then blanked Kansas 9-0 and added a 7-2 win over surprisingly tough Northwest Missouri to cap the win Sunday.

In the opener with the Tigers, which Kent called the toughest match of the tourney, the Buffs received a sound performance out of Brett Hall in the number two singles spot. The Houston junior beat Mizzou's Bryan Mitchell 7-6, 3-6, 6-0 to lead the Buff netters.

"It was the two best teams in the tournament playing in the opening round when we met Missouri," Kent said. "I think they were very overconfident.

"The match was scheduled for 9 a.m., and we were out there warming up at eight. They didn't show up until almost match time. They seemed to be stunned by the quality of our players. I don't believe they thought we could do that much."

In blanking Kansas, Kent paid tribute to his team's performance in singles play. "We got really good singles play out of everybody," he added. "Everyone just played fabulously in the singles."

In the final match against Northwest Missouri, Kent once again praised Steve Johnson. "The guy is small but he is an athlete," Kent exclaimed of the Reno, Nev., junior. "Johnson won a really big match for us in the number one singles. He lost the first set and was down in the second before he rallied to win. If he had lost, we could have been in serious trouble."

Kent also had individual praise for the play of San Angelo freshman Doug Davis. "He's going to be a good one," were Kent's words. "Everywhere I put him, he wins."

A good winning tradition helps too, such as WTSU's four Missouri Valley team titles in the past five years. That tradition could be a big help on Nov. 7-8 when the Buffs play in Oklahoma State University's team tournament.

Perryton Game Said Key To District

The Canyon Eagles' outing this weekend with the Perryton Rangers could well decide the championship of district 1-AAA.

Perryton, says Canyon Coach Deane Wright, appears to be the team to beat in the district as his Eagles, after a largely hapless pre-conference schedule, go after their second district crown in two years.

The Eagles meet the Rangers in district action at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Perryton and buses will help transport local fans to the North Plains city. Phil Langen of the Eagle Booster Club said a second bus is being contracted for the trip and seats are still available at $6.75 per seat.

Already in district play, Canyon has had a respectable showing, winning its first game of the season against Dumas two weeks ago by a 14-3 score.

Perryton has downed Muleshoe 56-8 in action last weekend.

If Canyon wins the Friday night game against the Rangers, Wright says, his Eagles will have to win only one of the final two games, either over Levelland or over Muleshoe to carry home the district title. The Eagles won district last year but were knocked off in the bi-district by a tough Monohans team.

Not only will the Perryton game be the key outing of the conference for the Eagles, but it could also be one of the toughest games the Eagles will be called on to play.

Pounded in early season by rugged AAAA teams the likes of Monterey, Borger and Pampa, Canyon has improved, particularly offensively, in nearly every game, handing Palo Duro a 20-20 tie and then downing Dumas as the most recent examples of the new-found offensive strength.

The Eagles have had a week to regather their forces for the Perryton game and Wright said his coaches have prepared the team for defending against a rapid-fire, passing attack anticipated from Perryton and for running the Eagle offensive wishbone against a continuously stunting Ranger defense.

"We've really had two weeks to get them ready," Wright said. "I think they know who they are supposed to block. If they get confused out there, it will just be the same old story."

The mainstay of the Canyon team this year has been a heavyweight defensive unit, but Wright fears the defense may get a taste of a brand of football the likes of which they haven't seen since their first game of the year against Monterey.

Perryton is a passing club, with more than 50 percent of their plays resulting in aerials.

Perryton Quarterback Russ Reagan, a 6-1, 165-pounder, is able to heft the ball into the waiting arms of two big-handed tight ends and a swift fullback.

Against Muleshoe, Reagan hit one tight end for three touchdowns and hit the other for two touchdowns.

In addition, a favorite Reagan target is Brad Beck, a 5-11, 180-pounder, son of the Ranger coach, who is not only considered by Wright to be an excellent receiver but also a good runner.

To counter the anticipated aerial assault, Wright will have a full slate of healthy backs in the defensive unit for the game. Joe Luquette and Jack Wright, two of the faster men on the Eagle team, have been drilled on pass defense.

Wright feels major Ranger assets going into the game will be a superiority in speed and line quickness. While the Eagles are weightier, the Rangers are faster, he says.

The Eagles will be starting in the offensive backfield with Allen Shankles at the quarterback position. The southpaw student leader has started most Canyon games so far this year.

With Shankles will be Kenny Basinger at fullback. Basinger saw the most action he's seen this year against Dumas two weeks ago. Luquette and Wright will also be in the backfield for the Eagles.

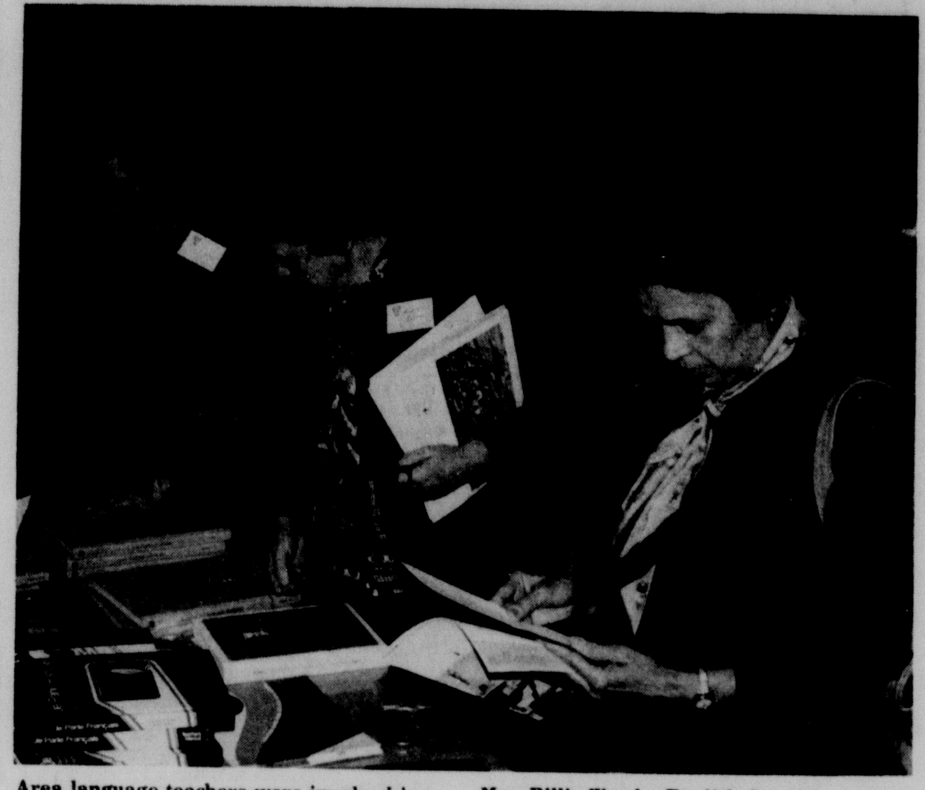
Because Wright and Luquette will be going both ways for the team, they will be relieved on offensive by Robert Scott and Gary Ward.

"They (Luquette and Wright) have to play defense so we can stop the passing attack," Wright said.

Perryton will also be running players on both offense and defense during the night. Wright said the Rangers use seven or eight players both ways.

"We've really been pointing at Perryton," Wright said. "The kids are anxious to play and I think they'll play good."

Wright is optimistic of the Friday night outcome, noting his players have improved in virtually every game since the season opened.



Area language teachers were involved in a modern language trends workshop at West Texas State University recently. Browsing through French, Spanish and Latin texts during the workshop intermission are from left, Mrs. Billie Woody, English-Spanish teacher from Dumas; Ms. Modean Ayers, Spanish teacher for Amarillo High School; and Dr. Maria Tarrab, Spanish teacher at West Texas State University.

Buffs Face Good Passer At Northeastern La.

West Texas State's Buffaloes will be facing one of the best passers in the nation in Northeast Louisiana's Joe Bruner Saturday night, but the Buffs shouldn't make the same mistake as the Drake Bulldogs did a few weeks ago.

Drake, which lost to West Texas State 24-6 in the Buffs' last game, went down to Monroe with the idea of slowing down Bruner foremost in mind. The Bulldogs slowed him down all right, but Bruner called on a potent ground game to take a 38-25 win.

Nonetheless, Bruner should be the Buffs' biggest nemesis in Saturday night's game in Northeast's Brown Stadium in Monroe. Before last week's game with instate rival Southeastern Louisiana, the 6-4, 220-pound senior was ranked fourth in the nation in passing (14.9 completions per game) and 15th in total offense (164.0 yards per game).

"We really haven't seen too much of Bruner," Buff head coach Gene Mayfield said last week. "We had Drake's film of their game with Northeast Louisiana, but all Bruner did was hand-off. I was talking to Jack Wallace (Drake head coach) and he said they were expecting a big passing attack and they threw only nine times. He was never so surprised in his life."

Northeast's win over Drake was one of three the Indians have racked up so far in this, their first in the NCAA's Division I. The other triumphs have been over Lamar and Northwestern Louisiana, while the losses have been to Kent State, Eastern Michigan, and McNeese State. The Indian opener was a 3-3 tie with Pacific.

The Buffaloes, after the 24-6 Homecoming win over Drake on Oct. 18, watched from the sidelines last week. Mayfield sent assistants Jim Dawson and Ronnie Mankin to Monroe to watch the Tribe's contest with Southeastern.

While they were watching Bruner's latest assault on the record books, the Buffs had at least improved their own statistics sheet with the resounding win over Drake. Quarterback Tully Blanchard and halfback Richard Riggins were the stalwarts as the WT rushing machine ground out 345 yards against the Bulldogs, the team's highest total of the season.

Freshman fullback Bo Robinson continues to top the Buff ground game with 240 yards on 61 carries, but sophomore Anthony Dogan pulled up to second with 210 yards on just 38 totes.

As a team, the Buffs now lead the Valley in both rushing offense (199.3 yards per game) and rushing defense (191.3).

On defense, middle linebacker Jeff Nunn, weak linebacker Larry Spears, and weak safety Mike Lozano lead the tackle chart after six games, despite the emergence of junior Bryan Carr at strong safety. Carr, filling in for the injured Mishael Kelson, was named the Missouri Valley Conference's defensive player of the week after the Drake game for his seven tackles, two assists, and three pass deflections.

Following the Northeast Louisiana game, the Buffs will return home to meet New Mexico State. The Nov. 8 battle will start at 1:30 p.m. in Kimbrough Stadium.

Tiony Tops In Tourney

West Texas State sophomore Joseph Tiony is the top returning individual in Saturday's Missouri Valley Conference cross-country championships in Carbondale, Ill, but Buff Coach Bob Kitchens doesn't quite want to put the monkey on his star's back.

"Let's just say he's one of the favorites," Kitchens says, but there is no denying that Tiony is primed and ready for the title shot.

First of all, the three runners who finished ahead of him in the 1974 race — Wichita State's Randy Smith, Perry Koehn, and Bob Ream — have all graduated. Two, Tiony ran a sparkling 23:56 in his only five-mile race this fall, a full 45-seconds under the listed MVC record. And third, he did not run in last week's Texas Tech Invitational to be ready for the Valley race.

"I think he'll be ready to run," Kitchens adds, and he submits the same attitude toward the rest of the Buff team. The other four Buff runners all turned in their best four-mile times at Lubbock last week, and Kitchens expects them to lower their five-mile marks at Carbondale.

"We don't have the quality depth to challenge for the team title," Kitchens admits, but we could determine who does win it. Our men have been running very well. Right now, this is the best cross-country team I've had here at West Texas State."

Drake, Wichita State, and Southern Illinois are the teams most mentioned for the team title. Wichita State has won the championship in each of the last four years, but the absence of Smith, Koehn, and Ream should make the defense more difficult.

"Drake and Wichita State have been running really well," Kitchens explains. "Wichita always has a solid team, Drake returns four runners from last year's meet, and Southern Illinois isn't a bad team either.

"Among the other teams, Bradley doesn't have one great individual, but they do have five pretty good runners. New Mexico State also doesn't have a great individual, but they shouldn't be a factor in the team race."

Saturday's race will be run over a course at Carbondale's Midland Hills Country Club.

WTSU, Sul Ross Tops In Volleyball Meet

Sul Ross State and West Texas State will be the favorites this week end as West Zone volleyball teams meet in Abilene to determine the area's representatives to the Texas Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women state meet.

The zone tournament gets underway Friday afternoon with the Lobos and Buffs top-seeded in their respective pools. Dr. Suzanne Blair's Buffaloes stand 20-2-2 on the season (prior to a Tuesday night match at Eastern New Mexico) and are undefeated against West Zone teams.

But Dr. Blair concedes that the 10-0 mark against the area squads will mean little when her team gets to Abilene. "We have beaten everyone in the zone that we have played, but I hope our girls don't get overconfident," she says. "A lot of those games with other zone teams have gone to three games with a few 16-14 and 15-13 scores.

The Buffs will be pooled with McMurry, Texas Tech and Abilene Christian. WT has beaten Tech three times, ACC twice and McMurry once. In the other pool, Sul Ross will be favored over Howard College (0-3 vs. WT), Odessa College (0-1 vs. WT) and Hardin-Simmons. WTSU has not played Sul Ross or Hardin-Simmons as yet.

If the Buffs do in fact play Sul Ross this week end, Dr. Blair hopes it will be in Saturday afternoon's finals. "Sul Ross State really has a fantastic team, and they should win their pool fairly easily," she explains. "If we don't win our pool, but finish second, we'd have to play them in the semifinals. We can beat them, but I'd rather not have a trip to the state meet hinging on it."

In the pool round-robin play, each team will play regular matches against each of the other teams, a break from the normal two-games. "We feel that the zone tournament was important enough to play full matches rather than just two games," Dr. Blair says.

The top two teams in each pool then advance to the semifinals with the two winners assured of a place in the state tournament.

Can the Buffs win it all? "We're playing good ball now, but I hope the 20 wins don't go to our heads" hedges Dr. Blair. "Our girls really want to go to state."

That meet, by the way, is scheduled for Nov. 14-15 in Austin.

Riggins, Carr Do Well

West Texas State's Bryan Carr and Richard Riggins had not been given much playing time until last Saturday's 24-6 win over Drake, but when the two were thrust into starting roles, they made the most of it.

Carr, a junior from Orange, filled in from pre-season All-Missouri Valley pick Mishael Kelson at strong safety, and promptly earned the MVC's award as the defensive player of the week with eight tackles and three pass deflections.

Riggins, a sophomore from Brownwood who was making his first start of the season, gained 79 yards on 11 carries to win the team's offensive honors. He barely missed the MVC kudo.

"They just made the biggest single contributions to the win," head coach Gene Mayfield said.

Carr impressed Mayfield with his all-around play. "Bryan just played a really solid game," he said. It was quite remarkable that he was where he needed to be to make the play almost all of the time. I don't think you could take anything away from his performance.

Carr won't say that he played as well as Kelson would have, but nonetheless he was proud of his performance. "I'm pleased with my game," Carr said. "I don't know if I did the job as well as Mishael, but I think I played pretty well.

"Bryan is not big, strong, or quick," Mayfield added, "but he is very tough, intelligent, and he's just not going to make mistakes. He's also a very sure tackler."

While Carr was making all the plays defensively, Riggins made the play that turned the game around for West Texas State. The Buffs had a third-and-four at their own seven yard line, and Riggins came hurdling and whirling out of the backfield, breaking three tackles en route to a first down at the 14.

"Richard made the big plays all day," said Mayfield. "He just didn't want to go down. He would get hit and keep struggling. Drake's defensive setup forced us to run wide, and Richard's speed enabled us to do it."

Riggins started a promising career last season in his first collegiate game, the Buffs' 37-17 win over Drake in Des Moines. He gained 79 yards in that one also, including a 32-yard touchdown run. He went on to be the team's third leading rusher with 310 yards.

"The reason that I have been a little hesitant to use him this year was because he is such a little guy and he has trouble hanging onto the ball," Mayfield explained. "But I expected a good performance out of him. He blocked well on their defensive ends and linebackers, and he wants to play."

Riggins couldn't help but agree. "It's just great to be playing again," he says.

Mayfield was also proud of the fact that Riggins waited patiently for his chance to play. "The fact that ke kept going hard is a tribute to his attitude," said Mayfield.

"You can't help but have a warm spot in your heart for guys like Richard and Bryan," the head coach added. "Boys who will come in and play like that, boys who will do anything for the team — you have to admire them."

Tennis Tourney Won By Elliott

Ross Elliott won the first Don McRoberts open-closed Tennis Tournament Sunday, Oct. 26, at the West Texas State Tennis Courts.

Mr. Elliott of 25 Village Drive, Canyon, was able to defeat runners-up Elton Cox and Don McRoberts in the final match with scores of 6-3, 4-6, and 6-2. Elliott was assisted by his doubles partner, Fred Stoker.

gans and other portions of the animals' bodies not covered by hair with a deftness akin to that of a person using a knife.

Longest indicated he is inclined to give some credence to the sheriff's report, since the cattle reported mutilated in this county have had only one eyeball — that eyeball which is not on the ground — removed.

And, he said, he may obtain at least one calf himself to kill and then watch for the effects of carrion crows and buzzards.

He said the downstate sheriff's report is "the first real indication we've had that these have been other than mutilated by people."

Nevertheless, Longest said he "wouldn't rule out totally it's not people."

The first report of a cattle mutilation in the county came last May 15, when Louis Hinders, a dairy farmer southeast of Canyon, reported finding one Holstein calf which had been mutilated, its eye, and sexual organs removed as if by knife.

Local veterinarian Dr. Allen Oltjen viewed the carcass and reported it appeared a knife had been used to remove the sexual organs.

Shortly after that report, another farmer east of the city reported finding a calf mutilated.

During the summer no reports were received by the sheriff's office.

But, beginning in September, four more reports have been filed.

On Sept. 8, Bill Wadley found one head of cattle mutilated on his place. County Commissioner Paul Lindsey found a head mutilated on Sept. 12 and then on Oct. 8, Wadley found another mutilated calf.

would be affected in the legislative article, with a 90-day session added along with the current 140-day session of the legislature; in the executive article, with the governor having responsibility for preparation of the budget, and having the ability to appoint agency chairmen; in the judiciary article, with a consolidated judiciary rather than a two-pronged judiciary as now; in the finance article, with the proposition that a $3000 exemption from taxes be mandated for the elderly; in the local government article, which calls for the voters to be able to alter county government.

Simpson also addressed several issues, which he said have appeared as objections to the new constitution.

Citing a Texas Research League study, Simpson said the new constitution could save taxpayers a great deal of money. He said Comptroller Bob Bullock has this fall issued a report indicating the cost of the new document is indeterminable.

Another objection Simpson said he has heard is that the present constitution has become well settled.

"The attorney general states that in the last three years, he has issued 200 attorney general opinions on constitutional questions," he said.

Simpson denied the document gives too much power to the legislature. While the document does, he said, leave the mechanical aspects of the constitution in the hands of the legislature in 157 specific instances, the current constitution has the same wording in 323 cases.

Heatly, who said he has consistently voted against efforts to replace the current constitution, contends the new constitution would represent a 180-degree change in the course of Texas government.

"Anytime you go from one side of the city to another side, it costs you money," he said. "Anytime you go from one county to another county, it costs you money. The bigger the change the more money it's going to cost you."

Heatly contended the new constitution will bring on a statewide personal income tax, but was not specific on how the constitution would cause the tax to become necessary.

"There's not any way you can keep from enhancing the expenses of any agency if you do a complete 180-degrees," he said. "When you do, I see no alternative but a personal income tax. We're going to have taxes running out our ears."

Heatly also dwelled on the proposed changes in the state's judiciary. He said the current judiciary "is the best in the country," and that the proposed change in the judiciary is the first step toward the so-called Missouri Plan, in which judges are appointed and not elected.

Heatly said the change would also slow down the judicial process.

County commissioners will sponsor another session on the constitution at 7:30 p.m. today in the county courthouse in Canyon.

Rep. Simpson is expected to speak for the constitution proposals and Jim Blair, an Amarillo tax attorney, is expected to speak against the proposals. In addition, Buck Douglas, executive director of the Texas Association of Counties, is to speak against the proposals and Dr. Walter L. Shelly, assistant professor of political science at West Texas State University, is to speak for the proposals.

thesis at the university, said he built the seismograph, the only one in Canyon, last summer after reading about amateur efforts in the Scientific American.

A long and abiding interest in seismology led Hood to gather wood, scrap metal and other materials to construct the unit. He leases a recording instrument from an Amarillo firm.

Since the middle of June, when the instrument was completed, Hood has been working to refine the seismograph.

And, since that time, he has recorded several major seismic events. Just within the last month, he has registered major earthquakes in the Acapulco area and one off a group of islands.

Pin For Bosley

Cecil Bosley will be honored for his 50 years as a Mason at a ceremony Friday night at the Medi-Park Care Center in Amarillo.

Members of Canyon's Masonic Lodge 3001 will present a 50th year pin in a ceremony beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Bosley, a Canyon resident for 43 years, moved recently with his wife to the care center.

made earlier this month by a special hearing committee established to review the decision of the administration to relieve Caballero as department head.

The hearing committee, composed of two deans and three department heads, heard 2½ days of testimony on the matter and issued a report upholding the administrative decision.

Caballero is retained, however, as a full professor of art.

Hermas Miller, financial vice president, explained to regents that the university currently spends about $250,000 per year for electricity for campus buildings.

Miller, citing the probability that electrical costs will increase in the future, asked regents to approve an investigation into the possibility of using a power control unit which would monitor the university's buildings and guard against over-use of electrical power when not needed.

He predicted the university could save $20,000 the first year the system is in operation.

"We should try to save all the power we can," Miller said.

A budgeted position for $12,000 per year was established for a fire and safety officer for the campus, who Dr. Watkins explained would be responsible for spotting potential fire and safety problems and for correcting the problems.

The underground utility system, only a portion of which has been approved by state legislators for completion, will cost about $320,000 as initially conceived. It will include underground unmetered water lines for now-useless fire hydrants on campus.

Other action taken by regents included:

*Approval of a new life and health insurance program for the university's employees.

*Approval of acceptance of $750,000 in student grants and loans for the year.

Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

She is involved in various mental health-mental retardation boards and councils in Amarillo.

She and her husband have two sons.

Shelton, who has served a short period on the board, is an Amarillo cattleman.

"I am delighted with the two appointments made by the governor and with the reappointment of our good friend Jack Shelton," President Watkins said.

Watkins said he had talked earlier Wednesday with both Lovell and Mrs. Sims and "I'm really delighted with the enthusiasm and desire Mr. Lovell and Mrs. Sims evinced to serve the university. I'm looking forward to working with them."

Watkins said he will travel to Dumas and Wellington in the near future to become more acquainted with both new regents.

He said the university is also "deeply grateful to Cloyce Box and B. Raymond Evans for the years of service they've given the university.

The News reported earlier this fall that Briscoe may have to come up with two more appointments to the board in the not-too-distant future.

Dick Todd, a Crowell farmer, said he will resign from the board but has not indicated when he will resign. Todd has missed several of the most recent regents meetings.

Another regent, who has several years, has also indicated he may step down.

The governor's appointments of Lovell, Mrs. Sims and Shelton will be considered for affirmation by state senators during the next legislative session.

With the appointments, it is anticipated that new officers for the university's board will be elected in January.

Regents are to meet Jan. 26 on the Canyon campus and deferred action Monday of election of officers.

Students. . .

Board of Regents . . ."

*"that all West Texas State University board of regents meetings be held on the Canyon campus . . ."

The resolution charges that the student body of the university "has been traditionally banned from the decision-making process unique to the Board of Regents."

The Monday senate action followed by a day action taken by representatives to the Texas Students Association in Dallas on a resolution sponsored by WTSU delegates calling for the governor to appoint students to regents boards and that the students so named "be either elected by the student body or appointed by student government."

George Lowrance of the governor's office said the appointments staff will consider any name submitted for possible appointment as a regent.

"We get a lot of resolutions and that's fine, but they need to send us a name," Lowrance said. "If there's no name we can't very well do anything."

Lowrance said no student name had been submitted to the governor for consideration for appointment to the university's board.

Student senators on the campus passed a similar resolution two years ago.

Currently three seats on the board are due appointments. Cloyce Box of Dallas, B. Raymond Evans of Tulia and Jack Shelton of Amarillo have terms which expired Aug. 31.

Sherry Peel, student senator who introduced the resolution Monday, told fellow senators she didn't really expect the resolution to have any impact on the governor.

"However," she said, "we need to start showing people that the students are very concerned about how their university is run, showing people we have the power and what we really can do."

Paul Thomas, student association president, cautioned the senators concerning the resolution prior to the vote.

He said no administrators and no faculty members are serving on the board of regents and a student serving on the board might be in an uncomfortable position.

In addition, Thomas told senators he has been assured by the regents that students will be heard by the regents and their voice will be considered.

Several senators spoke for the resolution, one noting that the university exists for the students and the governing board should have student input, and another noting that she would be happy if the governor would simply appoint a student to serve as a nonvoting member of the board.

Hospital Due Look By Accreditors

Canyon's new Palo Duro Hospital will get its first going over for national accreditation next month, Administrator Ray Grimes said Monday.

A team from the Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Hospitals will inspect the hospital on Nov. 21, he said.

The visit from the accrediting team will be the first for the new hospital, which was occupied following completion of construction last February.

The new hospital was constructed, particularly on the basis of recommendations from the national accreditation group, which inspected the old Neblett Hospital facility and found it unacceptable several years ago.

Grimes, who said the accreditation group retained accreditation for Neblett Hospital only so long as plans continued on a new hospital, indicated the new facility should have no trouble passing muster with the inspectors.

The team, which will include one physician and one hospital administrator, will spend one day at the hospital, going over medical records, financial records and analyzing the quality of patient and medical care.

The old Neblett Hospital building was found wanting in several areas, primarily in the physical plant and those who favored construction of a new hospital cited the feelings of the accrediting team as reasons for necessitating the construction of Palo Duro Hospital.

Grimes said a report on the status of the hospital should be received from the joint commission about six weeks following the team visit.

Medicare inspectors recently visited the hospital, too, to go through financial and patient-care records. Grimes said no report has been issued by that agency yet.

Hey Mom,

I got a wow!

If your youngster brings a class assignment home from Rex Reeves with a teacher's comment of "Wow!" or "Far out!", don't be surprised.

In an attempt to encourage children beyond the traditional "Very good," or "Fine," a list of 65 ways to say good for you is being circulated to the faculty.

"The word terrific isn't on the first grade vocabulary list," explained Mrs. Vondean McGregor, curriculum director. "But if you write it on his paper, you'd better believe he'll learn what it says."

Some of the other possibilities for praise suggested on the list include: "That's great," "Marvelous," "Good thinking," "It looks like you put a lot of work into this" and "Now you've got the hang of it."

The list was compiled by Dr. Edward S. Kubany, a clinical psychologist at Diamond Head Mental Center in Honolulu and was contributed to the Rex Reeves faculty by teacher Alicia Neimeier.

CowBells Bring Home Top Prize

By MARY NEAL HENRY

HAPPY COWBELLES WERE judged the Outstanding Club in the state and received a silver engraved tray. Mrs. Lonnie Todd, president of Happy CowBelles, was present to receive the award.

Other Happy CowBelles attending the convention in Fort Worth were Mesdames Roy Thompson, Earl Reynolds, Tom Henry, John Butler, Wayne Pearson, George Woods, Bill Eubanks, and Foster Parker. These were among the 111 registered from 30 local organizations in Texas.

Randy Hapgood of Clay County was chosen CowBelle of the Year for her efforts to divide Texas into regions for the purpose of workshops. Hazel Griffis of Circle C CowBelles in Coleman won the Human Interest Story Award.

Mrs. Griffis' story is one of ringing a cow bell as the wagon rolled down the street. The bell told the residents that the beef wagon was here and they would buy fresh beef in front of their doors. Hazel's father would cut the beef for them while they waited.

South Texas CowBelles and Circle C CowBelles tied for having organized the most locals this year.

Mrs. Don Ater, President of the American National CowBelles, was the guest speaker at the Texas CowBelle luncheon. Mrs. Ater has organized nine new state organizations in the past two years.

TEXAS CATTLE FEEDERS also met at Fort Worth last week. Attending from Happy were Foster Parker, George Woods, John Butler, Wayne Pearson, Bill Eubanks and Clyde Hancock. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hicks were also present. They have recently moved just south of Canyon. Formerly Happy people (now just happy) there were Ed Wright, Gary Culp (and his Becky), both helping Texas Cattle Feeders.

I visited with Bedford Forrest, Wayne Board, Royce Boderford, Tom and Brenda Higley, Earl Sargent (made a tap for Mr. Sargent for KWFT in Wichita Falls), Steve Munday (formerly an employee of Texas Cattle Feeders), and lots of friends from over the state.

Jay Wardall of the National Meat Board was there and says that you can now send a stamped self-addressed envelope to ANCB, P.O. Box 569, Denver, Colo. 80201, and get the recipe folder of the recent National Beef Cook-Off.

One of the highlights of the convention was getting to go to Texas Stadium and watching the Dallas Cowboys and Greenbay Packers. The game ended wrong. But it was exciting. We rode the bus out there and back from the hotel. And that is the only way to go. You don't have to walk so far that way and you don't have to "buck" that traffic getting in and out. No one pulls out between those buses.

CARROLL WILSON'S EDITORIAL, "We do, indeed have good teachers," in the Sunday edition is well stated. Let me emphasize that it is equally important as parents to provide those teachers with a student whose brain has been well nourished by the basic four: meat, milk, vegetables and fruits, and bread and cereals.

A teacher (not from Happy) once told me there is no way you can pour five gallons of knowledge into a three gallon capacity. Even with today's prices, that balanced meal should take precedence over other items in the family budget.

Happy Cowboys travel to Lazbuddie this Friday. Game time is 7:30.

Roundup Beef Rolls

Beef Filling

2 lbs. ground beef round
2 tbsp cooking fat
¾ cup minced onion
½ cup finely diced celery
½ tsp salt
¼ tsp pepper
1 can (15 ozs.) tomato sauce

Cook ground beef, onion and celery in frying-pan until ground beef is brown and celery and onion are lightly cooked. Add salt, pepper and 1½ cups tomato sauce. Cook slowly until thick. Cool. Prepare dough.

Dough

3 cups flour
4 tsp baking powder
1 tsp salt
¼ tsp marjoram
⅛ tsp sage
6 tbsp shortening
½ cup tomato sauce
½ cup water

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, marjoram and sage. Cut shortening into mixture until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. Combine tomato sauce and water. Add to flour mixture and mix until moist. Turn onto a lightly floured surface and knead 3 or 4 times. Roll into a 13 x 9-inch rectangle. Spread meat mixture on dough and roll as a jelly roll. Bake in a moderate over (350° F.) for 30 to 35 minutes or until lightly browned. Prepare Sauce and serve over roll. 8 servings.

Sauce

1 cup (10¾ ozs.) condensed golden mushroom soup
1/3 cup milk
½ cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese

Combine soup, milk and cheese. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until cheese melts.

Have a good day!

Halloween Hayride Event By Sorority

Chi Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority members, their husbands, and other guests were entertained Saturday evening, Oct. 25, with a "Halloween Hayride."

The event started with cocktails at the home of Don and Jeri Rozell and then boarded the "hay wagon" for a trip through Canyon to the country home of Buell and Sandy Martin for dancing and games such as apple dunking and string pretzels. The driver of the "hay wagon" was Jim Montgomery who returned the group to the Rozell home after the evening of games and dancing.

The Chi Upsilon chapter has traditionally held a Halloween costume party but this year will be joining the Xi Kappa Zeta chapter for their Harvest Costume Ball on Saturday evening, Nov. 1, at the KA Lodge and thus conducted their hayride festivity early this season.

Guests for the event were Speck and Monita Benham and Ben and Nancy Lowery. New Chi Upsilon chapter members and their husbands, Jim and Sheree Montgomery and Ronnie and Patti Hargrove, attended the affair.

Other chapter members and husbands attending were Richard and Janine Adams, Joe and Vi Taylor, Nell Haws, Richard and Carrie Bertrand and host couples, the Buell Martins and the Don Rozells.

Alpha Theta Delta Chapter Holds Meet

Alpha Theta Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held a regular meeting Monday evening, Oct. 27, at the home of Mrs. Ricky Richardson, 710 Foster Lane.

Sue Lewis, chapter president, conducted the business meeting as plans for the chapter's participation in the Halloween Carnival was among items of business to discuss.

"This Is My Country" was the title for the program presented by Judy Hill. She led a brief discussion concerning the beginning of the United States, the governinent structure, the country's music and architectural contributions and laws regarding women.

Cake Class Starts Nov. 10

The Canyon Independent School District will offer a course in cake decorating under the community education program.

The class, to be taught by Mrs. Lewis Tucek, will involve the basic techniques in decorating, beginning with the proper techniques in icing, leaves and borders, plus flowers. Emphasis will be on decorating cakes for those special occasions.

The course will be for four weeks, 7-9 p.m. at Rex Reeves Elementary School, in the cafeteria starting Nov. 10. The registration fee will be $5.00. To register for the course, come on the first night.

Mrs. LeBlanc Dies, Funeral Rites Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary LeBlanc were held Wednesday at Isabel Funeral Home in Fitchburg, Mass. Mrs. LeBlanc died Monday.

Prior to her illness, Mrs. LeBlanc had lived in Canyon with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Haynes of 2401 Ninth Avenue.

Other survitors include two sons, a brother and ten grandchildren.

An 1859 wedding dress is modeled by Stephanie Mehas in preparation for the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum's 'fashions from the past' presentation to be November 1 at 2:30 p.m. The wedding dress was completely handmade featuring cotton and is modeled in a museum setting featuring a Victorian carved table and chair.

A black silk polka dot dress of 1916 vintage with lace trimming is modeled by Janice Morris beside a Tudor style bed and chest at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon. The fashion, originally belonging to Miss Mary Hudspeth, will be among those presented for the public in a fashion show November 1 beginning the observance of Museum Week here.

Cooks Invited To Send Recipes For TDA Quarterly Publication

Randall County cooks are invited to submit their favorite recipes for publication in the winter issue of TDA Quarterly, a Texas Department of Agriculture consumer-oriented magazine.

Recipes unique to the Plains area and old-time specialities will be stressed. However, any good recipe will be considered, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

Since cattle are important to the Plains area, a special look out will be be kept for beef recipes.

In addition to recipes, old-time methods of food preservation in danger of disappearing will be printed. Anyone with tips from the past on preserving foods is invited to send them in, White said.

Deadline for submitting recipes and hints from the past will be Nov. 21.

TDA Quarterly takes a look at a specific region of Texas in each issue. It began publication this year.

Recipes and tips selected for publication will be credited to the sender. They will not be returned. They should be mailed to the Texas Department of Agriculture, Information Section, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Bi-Centennial Festivity Entertains Lots Of Folks

"Isn't this great —
"Absolutely gorgeous —
"Truly successful —

The foregoing responses were results of attending the "American Reflections" bi-centennial ball last Saturday evening.

The ball was held at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon with over 800 local and area residents turning out for the "fun evening" as the museum was filled with dance music, special displays and the Pioneer Village came alive as in days of yore.

During the evening the National Muzzle Loading Rifle Association's president, Al W. Hill, presented demonstrations of his art and the Canyon Capers Square Dance Club demonstrated some "tips and squares" for all to enjoy.

Life in the Pioneer Village was active with members of the West Texas State University Campus Services Organization operating the Country Store, General Store, Village Hotel, Bank, Barber Shop and the Blacksmith Shop throughout the event.

At a mid-evening break awards for costumes were presented following informal judging by Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moore, Dr. Ples Harper, Mrs. Royal Brantley, Mrs. Olive Bugbee and Mrs. B. Raymond Evans.

The winners in each classification were presented with Randall County bi-centennial medals on ribbons with Mrs. Fred Stoker receiving the award for the "heirloom" attire classification. Mrs. Stoker was wearing her grandmother's 1902 wedding dress for the evening.

Others wearing heirloom attire for the event were Mrs. Clyde Taylor who had a white voile dress dated 1910; Margaret Harper who had a pre-1900 cashmere shawl; Gene Vaughn Morrison who wore some 1919 western chaps formerly belonging to the late Ed Weeks of Canyon; and Dr. and Mrs. David Wheeler who wore heirloom attire belonging to her grandparents. Mrs. Wheeler wore a 1903 dress from her grandmother's trousseau and Dr. Wheeler wore the grandfather's suit from that era.

Recognized for the overall best bi-centennial themed outfits were Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Smallwood.

In the Panhandle Frontier competition Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Boehning took the honors with Mrs. Hugh Greiner receiving honorable mention.

Authentic copies classification was won by Mrs. Mitchell Jones with honorable mentions going to Mrs. Russell Sparling and Mr. and Mrs. John Reeves.

General chairmen for the overall planning committee were Mrs. Lloyd I. Watkins, Mrs. Charles M. Smallwood, Mrs. Franklin W. Daugherty of the West Texas State University Advisory Council on Campus Enhancement; Dr. Duane F. Guy of the Randall County-Canyon Bicentennial Committee; Joseph H. Pool of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society; and Dr. James A. Hanson of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum.

Consultants on the project were Mrs. Leonard Wilson of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum and Mrs. Ples Harper of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation which produces the outdoor drama "TEXAS."

Committee chairmen heading the project were: Mrs. Keith Winter and Mrs. Lloyd I. Watkins, music and entertainment; Mrs. J. Pat Stephens and Mrs. Joseph H. Pool, special exhibits; Mrs. Robert P. Muir and Mrs. Frank M. Blackburn, invitations and tickets; Mrs. Ed Harrell and Mrs. David LaBrie, refreshments; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bates, greetings; Mrs. Jack Taylor and Mrs. David Wheeler, decorations and lighting; Mrs. Carroll Wilson and Mrs. J.R. Thomas, programs; Mrs. George B. Asquith and Mrs. Alvin Kuhlman, publicity.

Past Fashions Revue Planned

A public showing of "fashions from the past" will be presented Saturday afternoon, Nov. 1, at 2:30 p.m. in the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum of Canyon.

The revue will be a concluding feature of the current Museum Week activities and is open to all interested residents.

Narrating the revue will be Jackie Wilson of the museum staff and appropriate revue selections will be played at an antique square grand piano by Mrs. Meade Humphries.

Refreshments of tea and coffee will be served following the afternoon program.

Film Saturday For AAUW Meet

The film "Why Man Creates" is scheduled to be shown Saturday morning for the Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women.

The AAUW membership will meet at 8:30 a.m. for a breakfast in the Green Room of the West Texas State University cafeteria.

Hostesses for the November 1 meeting are Martha Goodman, Eunice Haggard, Linnie Harter and Audrey Sanders.

Americanism For Sue Hite Club

An Americanism program on outstanding American women was featured at the October Sue Hite Meeting in the home of Alta Smith Monday afternoon, Oct. 27.

Betty Stoker, program chairman, introduced the speakers: Lee Reeves and Hazel Walsh, who are both active club members.

Lee Reeves presented informative information on women who were important early in the development of the new United States. Lydia Darrell, Martha Bail, and Abbegail Adams were discussed. Taking excerpts from two different books on Harriet Tubman, Mrs. Reeves showed her as a great Negro abolitionish. She discussed her daring 19 trips into the Southern slave territory to lead some 300 fugitives North, even to Canada.

Dealing with the women of the twentieth century was Hazel Walsh. Two Texans of prominence were presented. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston, who served as head of the WACS during World War II and went on later to be head of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The other Texan, also from Houston, is Barbara Jordan. She is an outstanding congresswoman who has served on several important committees including one to consider impeaching Richard Nixon.

Moira Myrl Wheelock led the club in the collect. Frances Holman, club president, and Stella Hill were selected to be voting delegates to the Top of Texas District Board Meeting in Perryton.

Addalene Barker was appointed to head the committee for supplying meat for the city-wide Federated Club dinner to be November 10 7 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. David Britt, Top of Texas District President wiill be guest speaker.

A money tree, made by Winnie Hunnicutt, centered the table on which $1 contributions from each member were placed to support the Opportunity Plan, Canyon Division. This project was proposed by Virginia Allen to gain support in this way from all clubs in the Canyon area.

Seven students have benefitted from this program of the opportunity plan. Five are presently paying back on money loaned them. Gary Cox, an advertising major at Texas Tech, and Jimmie Childers, an electronics engineer student at Texas A&M, are attending this fall under this award.

Martha Kent was welcomed as a new member of the Sue Hite Club. Co-hostessing with Alta Smith were Kitty Foster, Lois Prichard, Stella Hill, and Margaret Cole.

Time Change Made For Sr. Citizens

Canyon Senior Citizens will be moving their weekly potluck supper time to 6:30 p.m. since the time change.

This week's regular supper meeting tonight, Oct. 30, will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Canyon Community Center and members are encouraged to dress with the Halloween theme if they desire. Special table decorations are being planned for the meeting.

A program about the constitutional amendments is scheduled to be presented by Robert O'Donald.

Hot Dog Heroes Win Again

Humble hot dogs become members in good standing for the "after game" group when they're teamed with baked beans, cheese and favorite seasonings.

There's a great combination of flavors here, but they're easily prepared and just need heating long enough to become hot and bubbly.

They taste terrific in the company of king-sized glasses of ice-cold milk.

Mr. Frank Hero

½ loaf (1 pound) Vienna bread
¼ cup (½ stick) butter, softened
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 jar (22 oz.) baked beans
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons light brown sugar
6 frankfurters, split lengthwise
3 slices (1-oz. each) Cheddar cheese
Cucumber pickle slices

Cut bread in half lengthwise. With fingers scoop out bread crumbs leaving shell ¾-inch thick. Place bread on baking sheet. Combine butter and mustard; spread on cut surfaces of bread. In a bowl combine beans, cheese, onion and sugar; spoon on bread, filling hollow and covering to edges. Place frankfurters diagonally on beans. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven, 25 minutes or until beans are bubbly and bread is warm. Cut cheese slices in half. Top each frankfurter with a slice of cheese. Place pickle slices on each cheese slice. Return to oven and bake until cheese starts to melt. 6 servings.

Costume Ball Set Saturday At KA Lodge

A costume ball is planned for Saturday evening, Nov. 1, at the Kappa Alpha Lodge Hall, south of the city, under the sponsorship of Xi Kappa Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Tony Thomas and the Texas Swingsters will provide the music for the dance. Tickets may be reserved by calling 655-2041 days or 655-4111 after 5 p.m.

Proceeds will be used within the city for various chapter projects during the coming year and a variety of prizes will be awarded for the best costumes in both men and women's divisions.

Creative arts projects by members of Calvary Baptist Church will be displayed Friday evening, Oct. 31, during a churchwide Halloween social which begins at 7:30 p.m. Sybil Youngblood, church secretary, and Derwin Comer, music and youth director, are shown arranging one table of items for the Creative Arts Festival where church members will receive ribbons and trophies for their talents.

Happy CowBelles Most Outstanding

Happy CowBelles were selected as the outstanding CowBelle Club in the state of Texas at a recent state convention held Oct. 20-21 at Fort Worth.

The Happy CowBelles were awarded an engraved silver tray in recognition of their many achievements. The selection was made from a field of 30 such clubs from across the state.

Projects of the Happy CowBelles being recognized by the award included: beef gift certificates awarded to the first baby born in the Happy School District this year; a Father's Day beef promotion where members appeared on radio; participation in a "Tribute to Agriculture" in Western Plaza; parade float promotions for beef at Canyon, Tulia and Happy celebrations during the summer; a float promoting and giving away beef packages and a booth at the Swisher County Fair at Tulia; and the booth conducted at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo this fall.

"Decision Time for CowBelles" was the general theme of the two-day convention where Mrs. Don Atler, president of the American National CowBelles, was guest speaker at the awards dinner. Mrs. Lonnie Todd, Happy CowBelle president, received the award at the convention.

Jowell HD Club Has Fall Meet

Jowell Home Demonstration Club met Oct. 22 at the home of Mrs. Earl Davis with Mrs. Tom Wilhelm presiding.

The county extension agent in home economics field, Becky Hall, presented the program on "Recycling Yesterday's Fashions." She encouraged the women to maintain a design and style suited for the individual, to lengthen skirts from past fashion seasons and to make tunic tops for pants from other short styled dresses.

Next meeting of the club is Nov. 19 at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. O.H. Rahlfs. Nine club members including Mesdames F.E. Culp, Eavin Davis, O.H. Rahlfs, Ronnie Hufnagle, Jimmy Dietz, and Tom Wilhelm were present along with the hostess, Mrs. Earl Davis, a club guest, Mrs. Lewis Hinders, and the agent, Mrs. Hall.

Gensler Named To ICCP Board

Dr. Philip J. Gensler, professor of computer information systems at West Texas State University and head of the department was recently named to the board of directors for the Institute for Certification of Computer Professionals (ICCP).

The institute was formed in 1972 as a cooperative venture of seven U.S. and one Canadian professional organizations in data processing and computer science, representing some 90,000 computing professionals.

Headquartered in Chicago, ICCP is charged with the responsibility of developing and administering testing programs which will guarantee consistently high levels of professional competence by certified professionals.

Dr. Gensler, on the board of directors of the Texas Association for Education of Data Systems, was appointed by National AEDS as one of their two representatives.

Ten Year Water Study For Buffalo Lake Is Concluding

West Texas State University Biology Professor William A. Cooper will close down his ten-year water quality study of Lake Meredith in December.

"For the last three years there has been little change in the level of the lake and its chemical content," Cooper says. "We assume that the chemical content is as stable as it can get."

Cooper began his research in 1965 with the idea of trying to keep a continuous biological and chemical history of the lake.

"No one has ever done a complete history while a lake was filling up and getting stabilized," Cooper notes. "It is an entirely different picture between running water and water stopped in a lake."

He hoped to see how the change came about from a river to a lake condition and to see if there was some way of predicting changes in water quality of the lake due to changes in atmospheric conditions and rainfall.

If there was a correlation, city water plants could be forewarned of water quality changes so that they could alter their treatments.

"We found we can roughly predict when changes are going to occur, especially with respect to inflow," Cooper says, but not in enough time to do much good.

His primary concern was with the water quality of the lake, which he defines as "its taste and odor as affected by the mineral content of the biological life content and the usability of the water as a public drinking supply."

Cooper sited four permanent spots in the lake where he tested for changes in mineral content, microscopic plant and animal organisms and bacterial forms.

"For the first seven years, we checked every two weeks year around," he says. "And after it appeared to stabilize, we went once a month."

During that time the dissolved mineral content of the lake climbed from near 700 to 1,200 units per liter of water, which is above federal guidelines.

"The 500 units per liter federal standard is a bit unrealistic for this part of the country," he observes.

Lake Meredith has a high sodium and sulfate mineral content, which leeches from the lakebed rock and is brought in by the Canadian River.

"The raw water I taste in the middle of the lake is different from what comes out of the tap, he says. "Tap water may be treated three times — once with chlorine as it comes out of the lake, again at the city treatment plant and then by water softeners at the home."

Cooper has presented his analysis to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, the National Park Service, the Texas Water Quality Board and Texas Parks and Wildlife each year since 1966.

He also spoke many times on Lake Meredith water quality to civic organizations in the area.

Cooper is closing his Lake Meredith project to begin a chemical analysis study of McKenzie. Assisting him will be Britt Canada, WTSU graduate student.

The Army Commendation Medal was awarded Thursday to Robert A. Brotherton, Jr. (right) in a ceremony at WTSU. Brotherton, now a freshman at the university, was honored for the period from November, 1972 to May, 1975 during which he served as a Specialist 5 with the 3rd Infantry Division in Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Brotherton of Canyon. Also honored at the ROTC parade was Evans Adkins, a sophomore from Dallas and Navy veteran, who has been accepted into the Army ROTC flight training program. WTSU president Lloyd I. Watkins presents the medals.

Livestock Judging Team At Cow Palace

Seven West Texas State University students are participating in the Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo at San Francisco's Cow Palace this week.

The competition is considered to be one of the year's most important events for dairy and livestock students with 17 university and 15 community college judging teams from the western United States entered in the competition. The contest, which offers national honors to winners, is designed to stimulate and encourage livestock and dairy students to properly judge and select animals for breeding, feeding, and for meat, work and milk purposes.

Accidents On Increase

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 23 accidents on rural highways in Randall County during the month of September, 1975, according to Sergeant John O. Lancaster, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons being killed and 12 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first nine months of 1975 shows a total of 155 accidents resulting in six persons killed and 109 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for September, 1975, shows a total of 551 accidents resulting in 29 persons killed and 314 persons injured. This was 80 more accidents, 12 more killed, and 101 more injured in 1975, compared with the same period of time in 1974.

The 29 traffic deaths for the month of Sept., 1975, occurred in the following counties: Six in Wise; three each in Donley and Moore; two each in Archer, Floyd, Lynn, and Gray; and one each in Jack, Lamb, Lubbock, Wichita, Young, Castro, Potter, Sherman, and Wheeler.

Short Son's Birth Told

Mr. and Mrs. Randell Earl Short of 410 West 13th, Amarillo announce the birth of a son, Daniel Wayne, on October 26 at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby boy weighed 6 pounds, 12¾ ounces and measured 19¼ inches at birth. His father is employed with Iowa Beef.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James R. Short and Mr. and Mrs. William T. Testerman, all of Amarillo.

Cindy Blanton Named To Honor

Cindy Blanton, a senior communication major at Abilene Christian College, has been named to the 1975 listing of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Miss Blanton, a 1972 graduate of Canyon High School, is currently performing with the Hilltop Singers, serving as senior class secretary and is a Homecoming queen nominee. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Everett Blanton of Route 2 Amarillo.

"Who's Who" is a national recognition of a student's scholastic achievement, involvement in extracurricular activities and service to the school and community. Nominations are made by the faculty and students.

Have Infant Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Moudy of 107 N. Wharton, Happy, announce the October 22 birth of a daughter, Lori Diane, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby girl weighed an even 8 pounds and measured 21 inches at birth.

Her father is a farmer in the Happy Community and the Moudys have another daughter, Elaine, 13½ months.

Grndparents are Mr. and Mrs. Burl Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Foy Moudy, all of Happy.

Men Sought By Police

Police are searching for two men for questioning about a theft from the cash register at DeBords' Texaco service station Monday night.

The lone attendant reported $60 was missing from the cash drawer when he closed the station at 10 p.m. He told police he had noticed one of his last two customers near the cash register while a companion remained in the car.

Police are looking for two black men in their early 20s driving a green Oldsmobile Cutlass. One man is described as wearing his hair in an afro style.

Lt. Tom Rolen said the description was being circulated to other merchants in town who stay open late.

DWI Charged In Auto Crash

Canyon police charged a woman motorist with driving while intoxicated following an accident Saturday night on Ninth Avenue.

Ruby Alexander Dowse of 2110 9th Avenue was arraigned Tuesday on a felony charge of DWI and bond was set at $1,000.

She was arrested at the scene of an accident on the 1700 block of 9th Ave. at 11:45 p.m. Saturday. According to the police, she was driving east when her car struck a parked car, causing extensive property damage to both vehicles.

Police also reported another DWI arrest in the city during the weekend.

Michael Perry Slack of 801 15th Street was arrested about 10 p.m. last Friday and charged with DWI. He was arraigned Tuesday and a $500 bond was set pending trial on Jan. 5.

Intramurals Champs Picked

The white team coached by Bobby Byrd copped the trophy as the seventh grade intramural champions at Canyon Junior High.

Cyclist Badge Scouts' Goal

Girl Scouts working for a cyclist badge got some safety pointers yesterday from Lt. Tom Rolen of the Canyon Police Department.

Lt. Rolen discussed bicycle safety and the laws for cyclists with girls in Troops 148 and 181.

The Girl Scouts will complete badge requirements Saturday with a 10-mile ride around the Canyon area.

Boards Turned Into Art By Woman

Weathered boards from outhouses, barns, and other such things are transformed into collector art objects by Lorita Montgomery of Canyon.

Mrs. Montgomery, a relative newcomer to the community, says that she first began painting when she was about 12 years old. She has taken a few elective courses of art during her schooling but took her BA degree in general agriculture at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces.

Her husband, Ted, is a meat science instructor at West Texas State University recently completing his Ph.D. at Texas Tech in Lubbock. He earned his BA degree at Tech and the Master's degree at New Mexico State.

The couple has two daughters, Tanya, 6, who is a kindergarten student and Chandra, 8, a second grade student here.

Mrs. Montgomery regained her interest in art about 18 months ago to supplement the family income.

"It was a lot better than babysitting," she said, "and it was something that I could do at home during the children's naptimes."

Raised at Midland, where her father was in the oil business, Mrs. Montgomery has spent many summer vacation periods at the family's ranch near Las Vegas, N.M. where her parents now reside since retirement.

"It was during those summers that I learned to love the golden aspens, the yucca and windmills," stated Mrs. Montgomery, who now creates scenes for sale at such events as the upcoming Starving Artist Show in Amarillo, Nov. 1-2.

"I do my oils on weathered boards from the ranch," related Mrs. Montgomery. "I've stripped the outhouse, until only the poles and seats remain, and taken a number of boards from the old barn too."

"I have some trouble with the weathered boards," she related. "The weathered wood soaks up the paint unless it is sprayed with a fixative before starting, and with oils too, it takes longer to dry."

"It takes a good length of time to tag and label the works too," she stated. Art by Lorita are sometimes sold on consignment, but she prefers to wholesale her works and has constant turnover of her paintings through shops in both Ruidoso and Midland.

At the Starving Artists sale on Nov. 1-2 the maximum price tags will be $20 with many selections less than that according to Mrs. Montgomery. She presently has some 35 items ready for the show and plans to complete a few more during the weekend.

The Montgomerys are residing in the large old style home formerly belonging to Mrs. Gordon-Cumming, west of Canyon. The home is decorated with various items of furniture made by Ted Montgomery when the couple was residing in Goodwell, Okla.

Among the home's furnishings are the large carved divan, matching chair and coffee tables of the living room which were designed with a Spanish motif and cushioned by Mrs. Montgomery.

Beginning a new creation on weathered wood is Lorita Montgomery who prefers to paint "golden aspens, yucca and windmills" for art collectors.

Honor Society Initiates 87 Members

New members were initiated Tuesday night into the Canyon Junior High chapter of the National Junior Honor Society.

The ninth graders were selected for membership by teachers based on academic requirements of a 90 or above average as well as leadership qualities.

Initiated were Judy Acker, Michael Arnett, Monte Bell, Marla Bible, Linda Bonds, Rebecca Boston, Cynthia Brashears, Steven Brazile, Melinda Brown, Eddie Clement, Janet Coffelt, Jack Crager, Johnny Crowley, Terry Davis, and Janice Delaney.

Also selected were David DeWees, Tina Doloff, Lori Drake, Ron Eller, Lisa Erwin, Sally Flenniken, Deena Fletcher, Corey Ford, Terry Galloway, Nancy Glazener, Michael Glenn, Mikel Grabber, Linda Griffin, John Guidry, Meredith Hadley, Floyd Hartman, Larry Hartman, Kathy Herrin, Carole Hillier, Ray Holbrook, Dena House, Kayla Hudson, Steve Huffstutler, DelRay James, Sheila Johnson, Laura Lindsey, Steve McMinn, Cheryl McNabb, and Keith Melton.

Initiated also were Mike Moore, Jan Park, David Pitts, Linda Plain, Laura Poff, Donya Poole, Kathy Posey, Ronda Ray, Terry Rudd, Rebecca Russell, Brenda Sample, Stan Sanders, Steven Schmidt, Robin Schneider, Sharon Shaw, Jackie Skarke, Gregory Smith, David Tarpley, Terry Tennison, Kelley Thomas, Susan Thomas, Pamela Thrash, Cindy Todd, Aaron Tomes and Tara Tully.

Ground Broken Monday For New WT Building

Ground was broken Monday afternoon for the fine arts building on the West Texas State University campus.

Construction under the general supervision of Reid and Gary Strickland of Amarillo is to begin early in November at a site just north of the present university complex south.

University regents and other local and WTSU officials were on hand to grab a spade and turn ground for the new building, which is to cost about $3 million.

Regents approved the project earlier this month during a special meeting in Houston.

Board members participating in the groundbreaking were B. Raymond Evans of Tulia; Dr. Irby Carruth of Canyon; T.L. Roach of Amarillo; Jack Shelton of Amarillo; Dee Osborne of Houston; Wallace Harrell of Gonzales; and Don Curry of Fort Worth.

Other local residents participating were Mrs. Margaret Harper, founder of the musical-drama "TEXAS;" Mrs. Joe Randell of Panhandle; Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Lair of Canyon, who gave $50,000 toward construction of the building; and Lee Webb and Joe Snead of the WTSU Alumni Association.

Eight Indicted By Jury Here

Eight indictments were returned Tuesday by Randall County grand jurors.

Indictments were returned against the following persons: Billy Burke Bumpas, charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense; Manuel Paul Dias, charged with theft over $200 and under $10,000; James Robert Dubois, charged with theft over $200 and under $10,000; Jessee Manuel Juarez, charged with criminal mischief; Arn Lee Maddox, charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense; Deborah R'Shea Tucker, charged with unlawful delivery of a controlled substance; James Willars Upchurch, charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle; and Jimmy Tine Walters, charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Displays Continue Museum Week

Displays of quilts and coverlets and military uniforms continue Museum Week Activities at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum on the West Texas State University campus.

Veteran's Day will be highlighted by five uniforms on display all week in the north art gallery. These include a Spanish American War uniform of the 20th Kansas Infantry, a Texas Infantry outfit from World War I and a World War II medical corps uniform worn by Dr. Neblett of Canyon. Also displayed are a World War II Navy uniform donated by James Kone of Amarillo and the Korean War uniform of the U.S. Marines.

We wanted to exhibit uniforms from wars whose veterans might still be living," said Museum Director James Hanson. "The reason why we aren't displaying a uniform from the Vietnam War is because we don't have anything. We would like to get something if we could."

The quilts and coverlets show, which will be up through the month of November, "is something that is interesting to women, and part of life that they can relate to," said Museum Secretary Jackie Wilson.

The dates of the handmade pieces range from 1789 to the early 1900s. The 1789 coverlet artfully uses candlewicking for decoration, and is the forerunner of the chenille bedspread. This coverlet, made in the same year as the U.S. Constitution, is also a fine example of cotton crewel embroidery.

Also on display is a 1809 quilt whose cotton fabric was grown, ginned, corded, spun, woven and quilted on the same Southern plantation. Carrying a design which was probably taken from a china pattern, the quilt was presented to a man on his 21st birthday. The design work is done in reverse applique.

Dozen From Here In Artist Show

Over a dozen Canyon folks with artistic talents will have their wares on exhibit and for sale at the upcoming "Hungry Artist" event November 1-2.

The sale will be conducted at Western Plaza with sale hours from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Works by local and area artists will bear maximum price tag of $20.

Locals participating will be:

Janet Blasdel — sterling silver jewelry;

Hattie Briggs — miniature oils and ecology creations;

Randy Brown, water colors;

Margaret Campbell — macrame hangers, hand thrown pots and watercolors;

Mary Jo Hales — tole paintings, water color and painted rocks;

Conway Kuykendall — mounted butterflies, sand creations, and bead necklaces;

Anita Low — copper enamels and acrylics;

Lorita Montgomery — weathered wood oils of aspens, yucca and snow scenes;

Ann Palmer — copper enamel, watercolors on both cloth and paper along with tissue collage, oils and acrylics;

Ronnie Waide — pen and ink sketches on porcelain plaques and jewelry;

Lloyd Welch — antique barbed wire displays on wood plaques;

Glenna Wilcon — knothole art, watercolors, and miniature acrylic pen-ink drawings; and

Lillie Hundley-oil and watercolors.

Capers To Elect Officers Monday

Officer elections for the Canyon Capers Square Dance Club are scheduled for the next meeting on Monday evening, Nov. 3, beginning at 8 p.m. at the Canyon Junior Livestock Building.

The club's dance this week had Knox Day conducting the regular calls with three squares and visitors from the Reddy Squares present. Randy Costley, Leroy Pitt and Louis Thomas gave a tip.

The group had a supper with popcorn balls, candy and other desserts during the evening. Vistors are welcomed to each week's regular square dancing session.

Halloween Party For Classes Set

Sunday School classes from grades 1-4 at the First Presbyterian Church have scheduled a party for Halloween to be conducted this evening, Oct. 30, from 5-6:30 p.m. at Fellowship Hall of the church.

Costumes are optional for the event and dinner will be served at 75 cents per child.

Haunted House Is Open Here

Kappa Kappa Psi band fraternity at West Texas State University is sponsoring a "Haunted House" for the entertainment of young and old alike this Halloween.

The ghosts, goblins and witches of the holiday are entertaining folks at the building next door to the Southwestern Public Service Building in downtown Canyon through the week end.

Admission is 75 cents per entrant at the Haunted House.

YOU PLACE YOUR LIFE IN OUR HANDS

Every time you bring pharmacists a prescription to compound, you place your health and your very life in our care. Among the thousands of different drugs in a pharmacy, we must dispense the exact medicine prescribed.

Accuracy in compounding proper dosage is important. Everything must be doubly checked, for an error is unthinkable. It might cost a life. We willingly accept this responsibility for which our professional schooling and experience has qualified us.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

Texans:

If you are tired of bigger government and higher taxes, vote NO on the proposed new constitution November 4.

Don't give future Legislatures a blank check.

The Houston Chronicle calls the new constitution "a dangerous document." Governor Dolph Briscoe warns it will "lead us down the road to a state income tax."

Governor Briscoe says: "It is my personal view that the current Constitution under which Texas has grown and prospered for a century is preferable to the proposed new constitution. Accordingly, I believe it is in the best interest of Texas that all eight propositions on the ballot be rejected."

Play it safe. Keep our present Constitution by voting NO on Tuesday, November 4.

Gene Howe News

Wanted: Lots Of Chili Eaters

By KAROLYN FARMER

EVERYBODY DUCK — HERE comes the hockey puck! (Okay, so that's dumb — but at least it rhymes.)

That's my way of calling your attention to the fact that this Saturday night, Nov. 1, will be Gene Howe Night at the Amarillo Wranglers hockey game at the Civic Center.

Last week when members of the Wranglers, along with their manager Tuggie Tuckness, visited our school, they presented each child at Gene Howe with a complimentary ticket to the game.

Since probably most of our kids have never seen a hockey match, this will be a great opportunity to introduce them to the game, and also enjoy a fun night out as a family.

IT'S ALMOST NOVEMBER already, and of course everybody for miles around Gene Howe knows what that means — the famous Gene Howe Chili Supper.

The big event will take place this year on Friday, Nov. 21. The Chili Supper is the main money-making project of the Gene Howe PTA; and this year we're "shooting" for at least 1,500 "chili eaters." (No, we won't shoot you if you don't come! But I'm considering putting the names in my column of all the Gene Howe people who don't show up.)

PTA Executive Committee members will "enjoy" a work day at the school on Nov. 7. Chili Supper Chairman, Sarah Edwards, plans to begin preparations in the cafeteria at 7 a.m. (How's that for true dedication!)

Sarah was in charge of the Chili Supper last year and did a fantastic job (along with her many, many helpers). This year's supper promises to be even bigger and better — so make definite plans now to attend.

Also, if you'd like to be a part of the work crew, and just by chance nobody calls on you to help, please call Sarah (Mrs. Billy) Edwards.

There's definitely a place for everybody on Chili Supper night!

SOMETHING ELSE TO look forward to: The Show Choir from C.H.S. will perform at Gene Howe on Wednesday, Nov. 5. Their show will begin at 1 p.m. and will be enjoyed by all the children and staff at our school.

Our high school Show Choir is really super, and always provides top-notch entertainment. Parents are also invited to attend — and you'll be missing a lot if you don't.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7TH, will be a holiday for all Gene Howe students. The teachers and staff at our school will be attending the District XVI Convention of the Texas State Teachers Association.

The convention is scheduled to begin with the House of Delegates meeting on Wednesday evening, Nov. 6th. Giving the treasurer's report and presenting the budget at that meeting will be our own Luther Lawless, who is serving this year as District Treasurer.

Also taking an active part in the sectional meetings of the convention will be Jimmie Little, who will serve as Chairperson of the Panhandle Regional Speech & Hearing Association meeting, and Elizabeth Wilson, who is Vice Chairperson of the Library meeting.

Many other leadership positions at the convention will be filled by teachers and administrators of the Canyon Independent School District.

All of that goes to prove that we in the C.I.S.D. are very fortunate to have such responsible and capable leadership for our children.

SCHOOL PICTURES WERE distributed last Friday and this week all the kids are busy "trading" with each other.

"HELPERS OF THE Week" Awards go to Pat Bavousett, Janette Hale and Georgia Sorrells. All three ladies gave generously of their time and talents last week to assist Superintendent Jerry Jacobs in mailing letters to the parents of Gene Howe students.

THE 4TH GRADE football team played in the Kids, Inc. Toy Bowl last Sunday and defeated the team from Margaret Wills by a score of 24 to 0. The team, coached by Ray Myers, also won the Sportsmanship Award for their league.

Each boy was presented a patch designating them as champions. A certificate was presented to the team and will be placed in the Gene Howe trophy case.

The 4th graders will play one more football game this Thursday, Oct. 30th, at Austin Jr. High in Amarillo. The game will be played "under the lights" and is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. It will be an invitational game played against the Borger 4th grade champions.

This is especially an honor for the Gene Howe team, since they were the only Amarillo Kids, Inc. team chosen to play in invitational competition.

Everyone is invited to attend the big game and cheer our boys on to their final victory of the season.

THE 5TH GRADE football team took part in Toy Bowl activities last Saturday. They played a team from Robert E. Lee and the game ended in a 6-6 tie.

Coach Bob Trook's 5th graders played in their final non-conference game on Sunday and defeated the Highland Park team by a score of 14-0.

On Monday evening the team members, their families and the coaches gathered at the Siesta Park Recreation Hall. Doris McKee, the team mother, engineered the festivities and everybody had a great time.

Steve Wilson received the "Falcon Award", given to the team member who exhibited the best attitude and cooperation throughout the season. Jay Tipps was presented the Most Valuable Player Award. Tod McKee's name was drawn from the "hat" and he received a football.

All of the team members also received minature footballs to commemorate their last season as a Gene Howe team.

THE 1ST AND 2nd grade soccer team played the team from South Georgia last Saturday and won by 1-0. They played the same team in tournament competition this past Monday and were defeated by a 4-0 score.

The soccer team, coached by J.T. Jolley, will play their final game of the season this Saturday.

BRITT BOSTICK IS back home following surgery last week on his left ankle and foot. Britt spent several days in St. Anthony's Hospital and is scheduled to go back for further surgery the last week in November.

Britt, who is in the 8th grade at C.J.H.S., is now sporting a cast up to the knee on his left leg and will have to miss school for an indefinite length of time.

He is the son of Jim and Carolyn Bostick.

SHEILA AND JOHN Hicks took part in the Pentathlon Competition at the Amarillo Town Club on Oct. 25th. Each swimmer was entered in five events, with the total times being added to determine the winners.

Sheila placed seventh in the 11-12 Girls Division. John took tenth place in the 9-10 Boys Division.

THE HERITAGE WOMAN'S Club of Canyon is sponsoring the Arts Americana Exhibit and Sale on Nov. 14th and 15th at the Canyon Community Center.

The exhibit will feature all kinds of arts and crafts to be sold to the public. Everyone who has items they would like to sell is invited to take part.

Booths at the sale may be rented by contacting Darlene Hollabaugh at 655-4020.

EVERYONE IN SHEILA Davis' first grade class was busy doing something when I first entered their room this past week. While Mrs. Davis and several of her students concentrated on workbooks in the reading circle, the rest of the class had their minds on solving some addition and subtraction problems written on the board.

The fact that Halloween is near was evidenced by the latest art work done by the first graders. Pictures of black cats and jack-o-lanterns filled one of the bulletin boards in the room.

On the door were the words "Trick or Treat," surrounded by lots of scary witches and a big orange pumpkin "school house" bearing the words "Spook School."

The calendar for October also carries out the holiday and autumn themes. Each day of the month is represented by a numbered pumpkin. Filling out that colorful display is a big squirrel dressed in overalls who is busily raking autumn leaves.

Another display of the children's art work featured white "stick people" made from drinking straws and glued to black paper. They were surrounded by some more spooky Halloween paintings. John Cochran's picture was a witch on a broom, with lots of bats for company.

Cory Pryor chose to paint a picture of a haunted house, while Glennie Green's picture was of a ghost frightening a black cat.

After the children had finished their math assignment they were given some time to choose an activity of their own. Derek Smith chose to read a book about the American Revolution that he had ordered from the book club at school.

Susie Estes and John Cespedes both worked with puzzles, while Sharon Rawls and Denise Austin concentrated on the building blocks.

After washing their hands in preparation for lunch time, Mrs. Davis' class enjoyed listening to a record called "Race With the Clock."

The object of the game they played was to see how high they could count within 20 seconds. They varied the game by saying letters of the alphabet and names of their friends during the time period allowed.

Sitting on Sheila Davis' desk was a special Halloween decoration brought to school by Julie Blume — a witch with a black crepe paper dress and an apple "head" made by Julie's mother for the classroom.

THE VETERAN'S DAY Program presented by the Gene Howe 6th graders on Oct. 27th was really a special event for all the kids, the teachers and the many parents who attended.

The band, led by J.W. King, played several selections at the beginning of the program. "Indian Dance" and "Yankee Doodle Dandy" were the favorites among the younger members of the audience.

Our principal, Luther Lawless, even confessed to "getting goose bumps" as the choral group, led by Margie Phillips, presented their tribute to America in songs and speaking parts.

On Wednesday, Oct. 29th, the 6th graders presented their program at the school in Wildorado. On Nov. 7th they will perform for the Music Teachers Division of the T.S.T.I. Convention.

The date for the 6th Grade Fall Concert has been set for Monday, Nov. 24th.

DR. MARIAN GILES spoke to a group of Gene Howe parents and teachers on Monday, Oct. 27th, about a new program which has been instituted at Gene Howe.

Dr. Giles, who is on the staff of Texas Tech, spoke to the group about the many learning difficulties which children experience, and the many possible methods of helping children overcome their individual problems.

She pointed out that children are often their "own worst enemy," and because of their anxieties and fears may just "give up" in trying to succeed.

Other causes of problems in children which Dr. Giles listed were: Trauma, such as a death in the family; results of a high risk pregnancy or at birth; an insufficient diet; too much sugar and the presence of too many chemicals in the diet (physical polution).

Dr. Giles urged the parents present to become more aware of the source of their child's problem and to seek to work more closely with their child's teacher.

She emphasized that the secret in helping children is to "start early" and strongly advocates concentrating on the basic skills of reading, writing and math in Grades K through 3.

"Humanistic education," or caring what happens to the children, is the approach indicated by Dr. Giles as most effective and important.

She praised the teachers and staff of Gene Howe for working together so well as a team in seeking to help our children, and explained some of the testing procedures beginning at our school.

Dr. Giles is obviously dedicated to helping children, parents and teachers; and we're very fortunate to have such a fine educator working with our school.

THE HUNGRY ARTISTS Show (formerly Starving Artists) will be held this Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 1 and 2, in Western Plaza. The show is sponsored by the Amarillo Fine Arts Association and will feature all kinds of arts and crafts items priced up to $20.

Troyce Mulherin and Joyce Thompson will both have booths set up to display their "wares." Troyce's booth will feature her oil, watercolor and decorative paintings, while Joyce will have many fine examples of her handmade jewelry on display.

Both sisters invite all their friends in the Gene Howe area to stop by and visit with them.

Betty and the boys were treated royally by the "Delts," who gave Charlie a surprise birthday cake, (Charlie was 12 on Oct. 24th), and presented both Charlie and Toby with "Delt" T-shirts.

As part of the "Dad's Day" weekend festivities, Betty, Toby and Charlie attended the fraternity Open House, a family luncheon and the Tech-S.M.U. football game.

One of the biggest events was the inter-fraternity football tournament held on Sunday afternoon — the "Delts" won the championship in that event.

FRED AND HOLLY Cespedes, Dorothy, John and Brian are new members of the Gene Howe community. The Cespedes moved into their new home in Estacado Estates last week from a home they had been renting in Amarillo.

The Cespedes family formerly lived in Miami, Florida, where they were avid Miami Dolphin fans. Fred Cespedes is a native of Cuba and moved to the U.S. when he was 12 during the takeover of Cuba by Castro. He attended the University of Texas at El Paso, where he was active in football and track.

Fred is now plant manager of Amarillo By-Products. His hobbies include all kinds of sports, gardening and being a handyman. Holly's favorite hobby is sewing.

The Cespedes family is really enjoying living in Texas — and have even managed to enjoy a few of the Dallas Cowboys' games, too.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MILDRED (Mrs. Paul) Watkins who was recently promoted to editor of the Amarillo Globe-News editorial page. An article about Mildred appeared in last Sunday's edition of the Amarillo newspaper.

Mildred and Paul have two daughters, Amy and Paula, who are both students at Gene Howe.

Jeane Miller's 4th grade class was also featured in a recent issue of the Amarillo Globe-Times. Jeane and several of her students were shown preparing a bulletin board display of newspaper clippings.

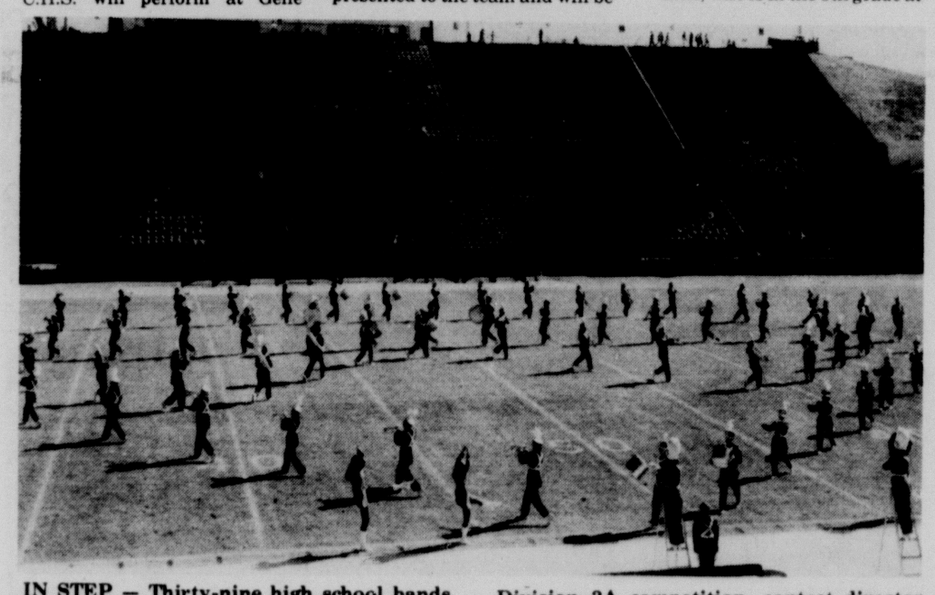
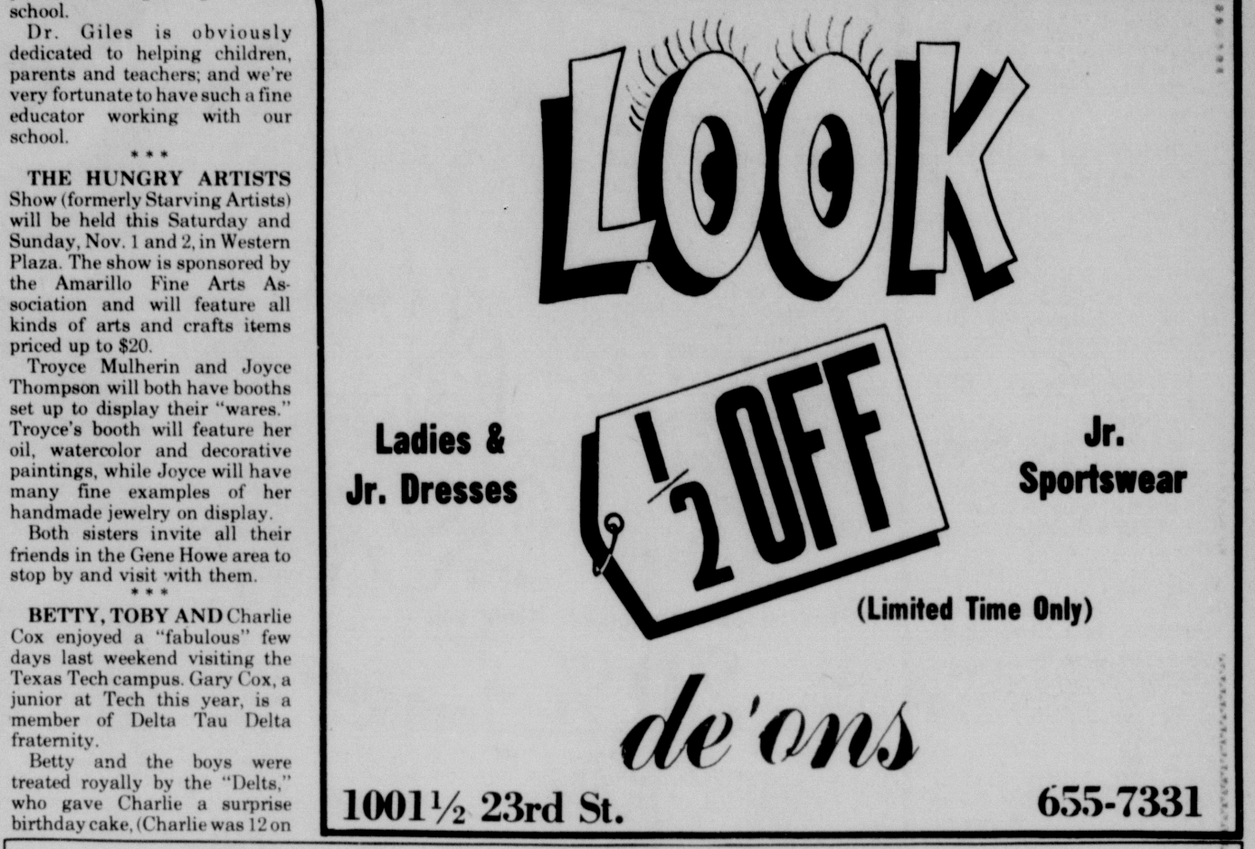
DECEMBER 9TH HAS been set as the date for the residents of the Canyon Independent School District to vote on the issuance of bonds by the district.

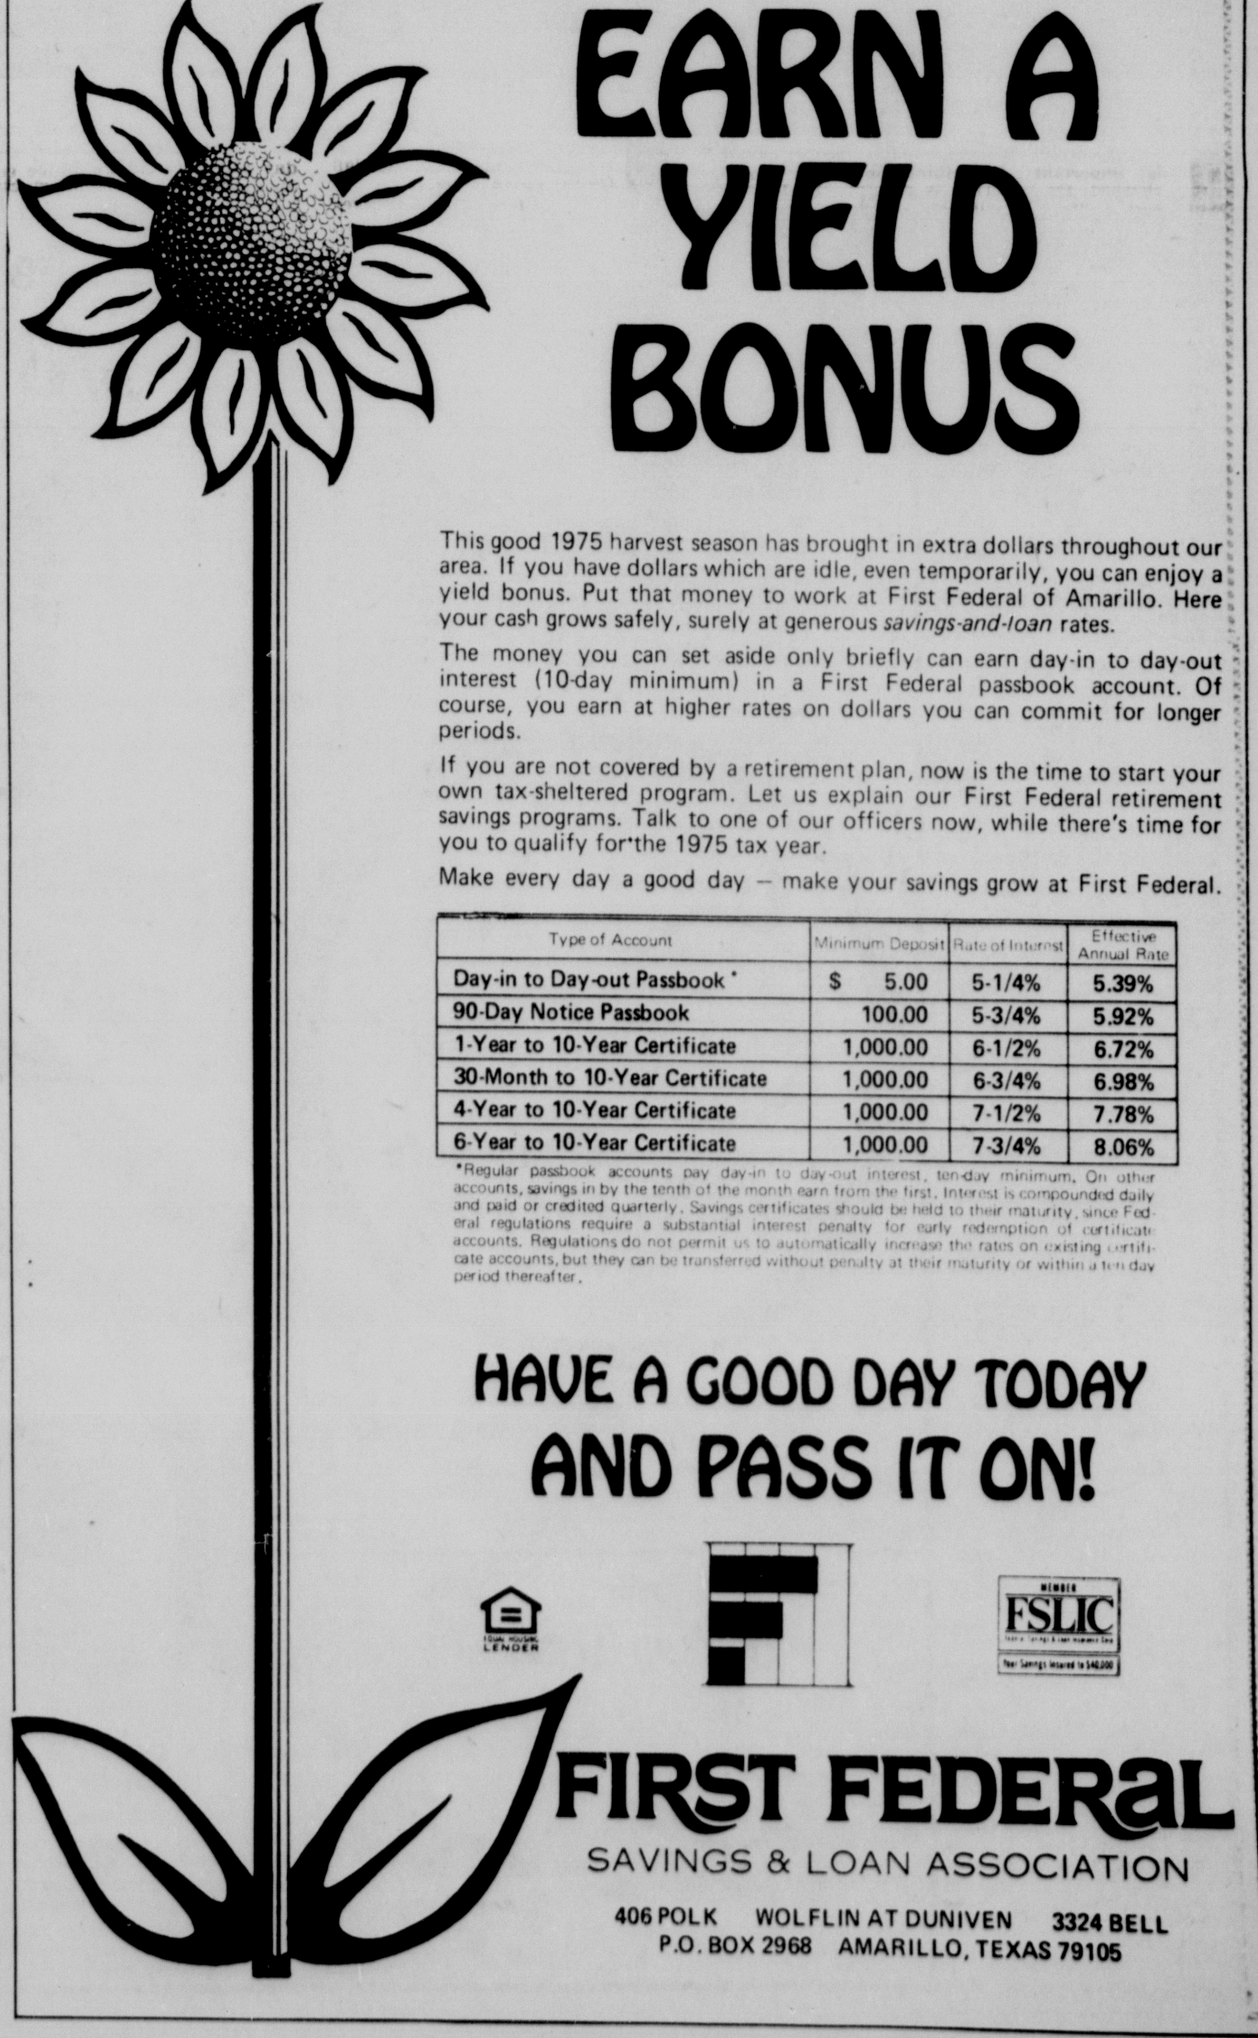
Residents must be registered to vote by November 9th in order to be eligible to vote on this important issue.

Please make a special effort to study and learn the facts concerning the need for the bond election — and then most importantly — get out and vote!



IN STEP — Thirty-nine high school bands from throughout the Panhandle marched in Buffalo Bowl Tuesday during Region I marching and twirling competition. Canyon Eagles took a top award with a one rating in Division 3A competition, contest director Don Baird of the WTSU music department announced. Earlier in the day the Stratford band, shown here, marched their way to a one rating in Division 1A competition.





EARN A YIELD BONUS
This good 1975 harvest season has brought in extra dollars throughout our area. If you have dollars which are idle, even temporarily, you can enjoy a yield bonus. Put that money to work at First Federal of Amarillo. Here your cash grows safely, surely at generous savings-and-loan rates.
The money you can set aside only briefly can earn day-in to day-out interest (10-day minimum) in a First Federal passbook account. Of course, you earn at higher rates on dollars you can commit for longer periods.
If you are not covered by a retirement plan, now is the time to start your own tax-sheltered program. Let us explain our First Federal retirement savings programs. Talk to one of our officers now, while there's time for you to qualify for the 1975 tax year.
Make every day a good day — make your savings grow at First Federal.
Type of Account | Minimum Deposit | Rate of Interest | Effective Annual Rate
Day-in to Day-out Passbook * | $ 5.00 | 5-1/4% | 5.39%
90-Day Notice Passbook | 100.00 | 5-3/4% | 5.92%
1-Year to 10-Year Certificate | 1,000.00 | 6-1/2% | 6.72%
30-Month to 10-Year Certificate | 1,000.00 | 6-3/4% | 6.98%
4-Year to 10-Year Certificate | 1,000.00 | 7-1/2% | 7.78%
6-Year to 10-Year Certificate | 1,000.00 | 7-3/4% | 8.06%
*Regular passbook accounts pay day-in to day-out interest, ten-day minimum. On other accounts, savings in by the tenth of the month earn from the first. Interest is compounded daily and paid or credited quarterly. Savings certificates should be held to their maturity, since Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early redemption of certificate accounts. Regulations do not permit us to automatically increase the rates on existing certificate accounts, but they can be transferred without penalty at their maturity or within a ten day period thereafter.

Carnival Here Tomorrow

By DORIS McKEE

WELL, HERE WE are once more to see what the folks here at Siesta are up to.

Sure hope everyone remembered to move their clocks back an hour Sunday morning. Bet you had time to kill when you showed up at church an hour early, if you forgot.

WE WOULD LIKE to extend our deepest sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. Scott Potter of 133 La Fiesta due to the death of their grandson, Edward Dean Flemins. Also sympathies to his mother, Sharon Thompson and family of 704 S. Fairmont, Amarillo.

The funeral was Monday Oct. 27th at 2 p.m. in Blackburn Shaw Chapel. Burial was in Memory Gardens Cemetery.

CUB SCOUTS ARE trying to get started again here. There was a meeting of interested persons on Monday night Oct. 27th in the park rental office.

TALKED TO RUBY Huddleston but she wasn't making any news this week. She did say she had a letter from Elouise and Elmer Asbell recently.

They are Alaska residents at the present but hope to return to Siesta in the future. They were one of the first to rent a lot when Siesta first opened.

* * *

EUNICE AND BARNEY Rinehart went to their daughters for lunch Sunday. They also enjoyed a nice visit with Charlotte and Tom McWilliams, Sr.

* * *

THERE IS A NOW of flu virus going around now.

Seems I got it last week and it sure is hard to get over. Lets take all the precautions we can to hold down sickness this winter.

* * *

ALBERT, KATIE, DAVIA and Kathie Rinne had guests over the weekend as Katie's sister and family, Kenna, Victor, Julie and Jeffery Eckert and Eric Porterfield, all of Slaton, came for a visit.

Albert's folks Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Rinne of Wilson, Texas also came for the weekend.

GENE HOWE 6TH grade football boys played two Toy Bowl games. Tod McKee plays on this team and was a little disappointed on Saturday when we ended in a tie again. They played Robert E. Lee and final score was 6-6.

On Sunday we played Highland Park and took a win with the score 14 Gene Howe — 0 Highland. This ended the games for this year.

* * *

ADAM AND CATHY Ramariz and family will be leaving us when they sell their lot and mobile home. They plan to go to Albuquerque.

* * *

A COMMITTEE OF ladies here in the park met Sunday night to begin work on putting together a Halloween Carnival for the children of Siesta and the surrounding area.

The doors will open at 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. and there will be a contest for the best costumes with 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes to be awarded.

There will be apple bobbing, apples on strings, fishing well, dart throwing and a spookhouse.

We will also sell hot dogs, dill pickles, coffee and witches brew. The proceeds will be saved and used for more parties for the kids.

The Carnival is a good place for your child to have a good Halloween so bring 'em and come on down. The recreation building Friday Oct. 31st from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

MONDAY NIGHT, OCT. 27th the recreation room was the scene for the 6th grade football team of Gene Howe end of season party. All twenty-one boys came and lots of parents. After some visiting things were quietened and Coach Trook and Coach Grimes presented each boy with his football picture and a small gold football to be worn on a chain.

Coach Trook then drew a slip from the bowl where each boys' name had been placed and presented Tod McKee with an official football.

Next he presented a plaque to the most improved player, which went to Steve Wilson.

One other plaque was presented for the teams most valuable player and it went to Quarterback, Jay Tipps.

Next I presented Coach Trook and Coach Grimes with gifts from the parents and the boys in appreciation of all their time and effort.

Also present were the 6th grade cheerleaders who yelled us thru each and every game. Cupcakes, punch and coffee were served.

RAYLENE QUALLS, DIANA Hoffman, myself and several others from the park were among the many who attended the 6th grade band and choir program Monday morning Oct. 27th. It was a beautiful program.

* * *

TEX AND PAT Reed had their son and daughter-in-law, Skip and Donna out for supper last week. Also present for the meal were Pearl and Dale West.

* * *

TIME TO CAP the ole pen for this week, but will be back so Keep on Reading.

Thought for this Week: "Take heed to not step on other folks toes. Your own feet should be large enough to get you any place you want to go."

See ya.
